We made Wonder Woman 1984 for the big screen and I believe in the power of cinema. In these terrible times, when theater owners are struggling as so many are, we are excited to re-date our film to August 14th 2020 in a theater near you, and pray for better times for all by then

AGREED that movies should be seen on a big screen. WW84 is in my top 5 anticipated films of the year...but I'm not going NEAR a crowded theater anytime this year (if ever again), especially knowing how unhygienic they are. Can theaters survive at 1/3 capacity w/social distancing?

I doubt the virus will be contained enough to reopen theaters by then. Even when it's contained we still gotta wait till medical professionals say it's safe to go out. By everything I'm hearing it could take till Christmas to even 18 months for this to clear up.

Julian| CEO of the Wonder Fam @Anarki1112 · Mar 24
I've heard they are most likely to open the theaters by June, but the people won't trust right away to go in crowds so much, so August is ideal, they have 2 months to get comfortable again
