BILLING CODE 4310-70-P

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

[Investigation 332-373]

Advice on Providing Temporary Duty-Free Entry for Certain Suits and Suit-Type Jackets From Mexico

AGENCY: United States International Trade Commission.

ACTION: Institution of investigation and request for written submissions.

EFFECTIVE DATE: November 26, 1996.

SUMMARY: Following receipt on November 21, 1996, of a letter from the United States Trade Representative (USTR), the Commission instituted investigation No. 332-373, Advice on Providing Temporary Duty-Free Entry for Certain Suits and Suit-Type Jackets from Mexico, under section 332 of the Tariff Act of 1930. USTR asked that the Commission provide advice as to the probable effect of providing temporary duty-free entry under criteria similar to those of Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTS) heading 9802.00.90 for the suits and suit-type jackets from Mexico classifiable in the HTS subheadings listed in the annex, but only where such garments contain interlining fabrics that are cut but not formed in the United States and that otherwise meet the criteria of heading 9802.00.90. USTR requested that the Commission provide advice as to the probable effect of such action on affected segments of the U.S. textile and apparel industries, workers in these industries, and consumers of the affected goods.

As requested by USTR, the Commission expects to submit its report by January 15, 1997.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Information on general topics may be obtained from Mary Elizabeth Sweet, Office of Industries (202-205-3455) and legal aspects, from William Gearhart, Office of the General Counsel (202-205-3091). The media should contact Margaret O'Laughlin, Office of Public Affairs (202-205-1819). Hearing impaired individuals are advised that information on this matter can be obtained by contacting the TDD terminal on (202-205-1810).

Background

On December 17, 1992, the President entered into the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), approved by the Congress and implemented by Presidential Proclamation 6641 effective as of January 1, 1994. Among the provisions proclaimed to implement NAFTA obligations is heading 9802.00.90 which affords duty-free entry into the United States of apparel and other textile goods assembled in Mexico in which the textile components are made entirely from U.S.-formed-and-cut fabrics. According to USTR's letter, the impending loss of domestic supply of certain interlining fabrics has caused concern among U.S. firms that produce suits and suit-type jackets containing these interlining fabrics in production-sharing operations in Mexico and that import the finished garments under heading 9802.00.90. Because these U.S.-formed interlining fabrics will no longer be available when current inventories are exhausted, garments now imported by these U.S. firms under heading 9802.00.90 would no longer qualify for duty-free entry thereunder and would be dutiable to the extent of the value added in Mexico. Representatives of the U.S. textile and apparel industries have requested that the President authorize temporary duty-free entry for the suits and suit-type jackets from Mexico that contain imported interlining fabrics, provided that the fabrics are cut in the United States and that the garments otherwise meet the criteria of heading 9802.00.90. Section 201(b)(1)(A) of the NAFTA Implementation Act (19 U.S.C. 3331(b)(1)(A)) authorizes the President to proclaim such modifications or continuation of any duty as the President determines to be necessary or appropriate to maintain the general level of reciprocal and mutually advantageous concessions with respect to Canada or Mexico provided for by NAFTA, subject to the consultation and layover requirements of section 103(a) of the NAFTA Implementation Act (19 U.S.C. 3313(a)).

After considering the Commission's advice and all other factors specified by the NAFTA Implementation Act, the President must submit the proposed temporary tariff changes and accompanying advice and explanations to the Congress pursuant to the layover requirements of section 103 (a) of the NAFTA Implementation Act. Although USTR's letter did not identify the interlining fabrics in question, these fabrics were identified by the Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements (CITA) in a Federal Register notice of September 20, 1996 (61 FR 149439) in connection with similar changes to the Special Access Program for Caribbean Basin countries. According to CITA's notice, imported interlining fabrics may be used in the suit jackets and suit-type jackets entered under the Special Access Program provided they are cut in the United States and are of a type described below:

1. A chest plate, "hymo" piece or "sleeve header" of woven or weft-inserted warp knit construction of course animal hair or manmade filaments used in the manufacture of the specified garments;

2. A weft-inserted warp knit fabric that contains and exhibits properties of elasticity and resilience which render the fabric especially suitable for attachment by fusing with a thermoplastic adhesive to the coat-front, side body or back of the specified garments; and

3. A woven fabric that contains and exhibits properties of resiliency which render the fabric especially suitable for attachment by fusing with a thermoplastic adhesive to the coat-front, side body or back of the specified garments.

However, interested parties are invited to submit written statements regarding the matters to be addressed by the Commission in its report on this investigation. The Commission may include confidential business information submitted in the course of this investigation in the President and USTR. USTR has indicated that all or part of the Commission's report may be classified.

To be assured of consideration by the Commission, written statements relating to the investigation should be submitted to the Commission at the earliest practical date and should be received no later than the close of business on December 16, 1996.
