Sara Lee Bodywear, McAdoo, Pennsylvania; Notice of Revised Determination on Reopening

On February 28, 1997, the Department, on its own motion, reopened its investigation for the former workers of the subject firm.

The initial investigation resulted in a negative determination issued on December 13, 1996, because the workers provided distribution and warehousing services. The workers did not produce an article within the meaning of Section 222(3) of the Trade Act of 1974. The denial notice was published in the Federal Register on December 31, 1996 (61 FR 69110).

The petitioners provided evidence that finishing operations were performed on women's garments (including bike shorts, capri pants and ankle pants) at the Sara Lee Bodywear facility in McAdoo, Pennsylvania.

The articles produced by the subject firm have been impacted importantly by the high penetration of imports into this market. The ratio of U.S. imports of women's and girls' slacks and shorts to domestic production was above 110 percent from 1994 through September 1996.

Conclusion

After careful consideration of the new facts obtained on reopening, it is concluded that increased imports of articles like or directly competitive with women's apparel produced by the subject firm contributed importantly to the decline in sales and to the total or partial separation of workers of the subject firm. In accordance with the provisions of the Trade Act of 1974, I make the following revised determination:

All workers of Sara Lee Bodywear, McAdoo, Pennsylvania, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after October 7, 1995, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed in Washington, D.C. this 17th day of April 1997.

Program Manager, Policy and Reemployment Services, Office of Trade Adjustment Assistance.
