Administration for Children and Families

[Program Announcement No. OPRE-97-1]

Availability of Funds and Requests for Applications for Welfare Reform Studies and Analyses AGENCY: Office of Planning, Research, and Evaluation; ACF; DHHS.

ACTION: Announcement of the availability of funds and requests for applications for welfare reform studies and analyses (OPRE-97-1).

SUMMARY: The Administration for Children and Families (ACF) announces that competing applications are being accepted for funding to stimulate research and support a wide range of studies and analyses of varied aspects of welfare program changes at the national, state and local levels. This research will address the effects of welfare reform changes on families and children; the experiences of states and localities involved in implementing changes; or the experiences, responses and impacts on other entities or programs involved in implementing changes. Organizations eligible to apply for this Federal funding include public entities; private for-profit organizations (if fee is waived); and public or private nonprofit organizations, including universities. Federal funding under this announcement is intended to support research analysis and evaluation exclusively, not program operation or service provision. Projects funded under this announcement are intended to complement other aspects of the ACF research strategy for welfare reform evaluation and study. Funding under this announcement is intended to stimulate research and support a wide range of studies or components of studies and analyses of welfare program changes brought about by the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, and specifically the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) program. Subject to the availability, funding under this announcement is authorized by section 1110 of the Social Security Act governing Social Services Research and Demonstration activities (Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance 93.647) and is intended to support research analysis and evaluation, not program operation or service provision. ACF anticipates providing up to $1.95 million for the total group of approved projects in FY 1997 and up to $750,000 in FY 1998, subject to the availability of funds in each year, and a like amount in succeeding years. We estimate that this level of funding will support 4 to 8 separate projects under this announcement in FY 1997.

CLOSING DATE: The closing date for submission of applications is July 28, 1997. Mailed applications postmarked after the closing date will be classified as late.

Overview

The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 brings historic changes to state control over the design of Federally funded public assistance under title IV-A of the Social Security Act as well as changes regarding how states choose to delegate decisions and administrative control to local agencies and authorities. These changes create the need to explore a broad array of issues to understand the effects on families and the varied institutions involved and to document programs and initiatives put in place to encourage and support self-sufficiency among welfare recipients.

ACF's national strategy for welfare reform research and evaluation is multi-faceted, including initiatives such as the State Welfare Reform Evaluation projects, the Child Care Research Partnership projects, the Project on State-Level Child Outcomes, the National Longitudinal Study of Children and Families in the Child Welfare System, and Departmental collaborations on topics such as employment stability and immigration and public assistance. The purpose of this announcement is to stimulate research and augment ongoing studies that are consistent with ACF's multi-faceted strategy and address areas not adequately covered by other projects in our welfare reform research and evaluation agenda. While we have identified some specific areas of interest to ACF within this announcement, researchers are encouraged to submit their own ideas and rationale for potential topics. This broad approach will assist ACF in continuing to develop research questions pertinent to welfare reform programs and policies and to fund projects that offer the most promise to adequately address such questions.

Currently, there is a great deal of activity in research institutes and firms, universities, and philanthropic foundations focused on various aspects of the changes occurring in state and local design of welfare programs. ACF is interested in partnering with such entities and providing support to enhance or expand studies by other funders as well as to provide full support for a range of studies or projects that address some of the most critical questions about outcomes for families and children, program design and implementation at various levels, and program management in the new public assistance environment.

With the changes brought about by enactment of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, and in particular the provisions of the Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) program, it will be extremely important to policy makers and program administrators at all levels of government to fully understand how programs are implemented, how the culture of welfare offices is changing, how children and families are progressing under new rules and requirements, how specific subgroups or populations are affected, and whether policies and services are effective. Well-executed implementation analyses are important to providing early feedback on the new flexibility accorded to States under TANF as are illustrations of the changing culture of local public assistance offices brought about by TANF. Likewise, the implementation of Tribal TANF programs should be assessed to provide needed feedback. ACF is interested in supporting studies of this type.

We have special interest in studies that aim to understand and monitor family and child well-being, to complement the work being done as part of the Project on State-Level Child Outcomes, because such studies will be critical to increasing knowledge and measuring the success of reforms on family economic independence and child well-being. We encourage additional projects focusing on child outcomes. Further, analyses that can illustrate and examine outcomes for children and families will be needed to answer the array of questions presented about TANF's effects on family self-sufficiency and child well-being.

Understanding the complex issues surrounding the relationship between employment stability and child care is a necessary aspect of measuring the effects of reforms. To supplement the projects to be funded under the ACF Child Care Research Partnership program announcement, analyses that focus on the relationship between child care and employment, including quality of care and associated child development and well-being, are important.

While State-level evaluations of welfare reform begun under waiver authority and supported through ACF's State Welfare Reform Evaluation initiative will provide very useful information, additional analyses that examine changes resulting from TANF across a spectrum of environments (e.g., neighborhoods, communities, political subdivisions, public and other institutions, service providers) are needed to understand the breadth and scope of welfare reform that is being undertaken and its effects on other entities and programs.

As an important part of ACF's national strategy for welfare reform evaluation and analysis, we intend to fund projects through this announcement to address questions not adequately addressed elsewhere in other ACF research and evaluation projects, such as those noted above. Under this announcement we expect to fund a varied group of projects that complement those efforts and provide information on program implementation, address a range of program and policy questions of importance to states, the Federal government and the general public, and examine family and child well-being.

This program announcement consists of three parts. Part I describes the activities supported by this announcement and application requirements. Part II describes the application review process. Part III provides information and instructions for the development and submission of applications. The forms to be used for submitting an application follow Part III.

Part I—Project Purpose and Design

Purpose

The primary purpose of this announcement is to stimulate research to further ACF's national strategy for welfare reform evaluation and analysis by supporting short-term and multi-year studies and evaluations (or components of such projects) to document and examine the experience of state or local agencies in implementing welfare reform and to better understand the effects of welfare reform on low-income children and families. A wide range of well-designed studies and evaluations will be considered under this announcement. We may provide principal or possibly sole funding for short-term, small-scale projects, such as process studies to provide rapid feedback on TANF implementation or the implementation of programs or services aimed at assisting families to obtain employment or respond to other aspects of welfare reform.

Through the short-term studies, we are particularly interested in obtaining information about the implementation and effects of innovative initiatives to help welfare families become self-sufficient but the study of other topics will also be considered. Through the multi-year projects, we are primarily interested in supporting supplements or enhancements to existing studies funded by others in order to address important questions regarding agencies, communities, and low-income families and children affected by welfare reform which may not otherwise be included in an existing study. ACF will also consider fully funding multi-year studies subject to the availability of funds and agency research priorities; however, we do not expect to provide full funding for large-scale, multi-year impact studies.

The studies may be descriptive in nature, collecting and reporting on information about the characteristics of individuals and organizations involved with and affected by welfare reform. They may examine the effects of specific welfare reform policies (e.g., work requirements or time limits) or address a broad range of welfare reform issues and outcomes. They may be focused on specific geographic areas or include multiple sites. They may document the effects of welfare reform over time at various levels (e.g. national, state, local, community, family and individual) or provide a quick report on the early stages and effects of reform initiatives.

ACF's interests in TANF implementation (at the state, local, and Tribal levels); child and family outcomes and well-being; and welfare office culture change are not the only research topics for which funding will be provided under this announcement. We invite a broad response to this announcement for well-designed studies which can be expected to add significantly to the research knowledge base. We wish to partner with those supporting well-designed evaluations or analyses which are currently planned or under way in the research and evaluation community so that we may consider funding types of studies that expand the agenda we have outlined here.

Project Design

As discussed above, funding under this announcement is expected to be used to support studies and evaluations which differ from one another in focus, scope and scale. State and local welfare agencies, policy makers, and the general public will benefit greatly from a very broad range of different types of public assistance research projects. For that reason ACF does not prescribe here specific research or evaluation designs, but rather we invite varied approaches to advance understanding of welfare reform and child and family functioning. While the research methods for studies submitted may differ, they must be well designed and the project's methods must be adequate and appropriate to address the questions identified for the study. As discussed in the Review Criteria section below, applicants must have experience and a proven track record in conducting studies of the scope and scale proposed. In making decisions, ACF will consider an applicant organization's experience as well as the experience and qualifications of researchers and staff.

As indicated above, we expect to support projects which address different and varied issue areas. Below are some general topics of interest to ACF which are intended to be illustrative only. We invite and expect proposals focused on other issue areas as well.

We are interested in answering questions related to the public assistance programs put in place, the agencies operating the programs and changes in their organizational culture, the community environment and the participants and families involved.

Important questions need to be addressed regarding time limits as they relate to organizational entities and to individuals and families. From a state/local agency perspective, a study might seek to understand what state/local welfare agencies are doing to assist families subject to time limits to gain adequate employment before losing their cash benefits or how the provisions are being implemented and explained at the worker level. It is important to understand the implications and effects of the time limit on other service providers and other service delivery systems. And it is critically important to examine the response of individuals to the time limits and the effects on families and children.

Issues surrounding work are critically important and many important questions exist. These might include questions regarding the operation and effects of policies to move recipients into jobs and help them retain employment, policies to increase employment through linkages or subsidies to employers, and policies intended to effect behavior such as sanctions and disregards.

In addition, other issues related to employment such as supportive services and service coordination are important topics. How are critical aspects of child care being addressed in different programs? Are child care supply and demand, accessibility, costs, and quality factors in supporting families' entry into the work force?

ACF is interested in studies that address important questions about the progress of individuals with special needs. There is a strong need to develop and study models for addressing domestic violence within welfare families. ACF is interested in helping to provide credible information about promising service approaches and strategies in this area.

With requirements to move TANF recipients into the unsubsidized labor force, many programs may exempt individuals with disabilities or their parents from mandatory work and training activity or other program requirements. The result could be that these individuals would lose the opportunity to become self-sufficient and the public assistance community would miss an opportunity to learn how to improve services to disabled recipients and children to better enable families to move toward productive work. ACF is interested in building on the current knowledge about how to assist and integrate families with disabled people into the work force and help them confront obstacles to self-sufficiency.

Under TANF, many teen parents will require alternate adult-supervised living arrangements (e.g. Second Chance Homes) and other services when they cannot live at home. Analysis and evaluation of transitioning into independent living arrangements will be necessary to the success of welfare reform for these young parents at risk. Analysis and evaluation of programs and policies focused on school attendance requirements and successful transition from school to work are also needed.

Another issue area that should be addressed concerns innovative service delivery systems or methods (e.g., home visiting; neighborhood saturation via linkages and collaborations among multiple agencies; and integrated service delivery systems). In addition, questions about improving the material, emotional, and developmental well-being of children via fathers' role in children's and families' lives are also important.

Further, it is important to understand how local jurisdictions, Tribal organizations, and welfare offices have responded to different state approaches to implementing TANF, including how differences in implementation may affect family outcomes. This may include issues related to changes in the culture of welfare offices in response to TANF, family outcomes in special jurisdictions such as reservations, and changes in the management of program components under TANF now operated by different providers, including Tribes, or sectors of the community (e.g., public, for-profit contractor, non-profit service providers).

These topics are illustrative of some of the areas of interest to ACF and are consistent with its overall welfare reform research and evaluation agenda. This announcement seeks to stimulate sound research, evaluation and study of a wide range of topical areas related to welfare reform and a variety of study designs that aim to answer different sorts of questions about policy, service management and delivery, and outcomes for family and child well-being. ACF's purpose is to further its welfare reform research and evaluation agenda by supplementing and complementing other research projects through this announcement by providing sole funding in some cases and by entering into partnerships in other cases with local and national public and private funders.

Eligible Applicants

Organizations eligible to apply for financial assistance under this announcement include public entities; private for-profit organizations (if fee is waived); and public or private nonprofit organizations, including universities. Any nonprofit organization submitting an application must submit proof of its nonprofit status in its application at the time of submission. The nonprofit agency can accomplish this by providing a copy of the applicant's listing in the Internal Revenue Service's (IRS) most recent list of tax-exempt organizations described in Section 501(c)(3) of the IRS code or by providing a copy of the currently valid IRS tax exemption certificate, or by providing a copy of the articles of incorporation bearing the seal of the State in which the corporation or association is domiciled.

While a variety of organizations and entities are eligible to apply for funding under this announcement, potential applicants should carefully review the Review Criteria in Part II to determine that they meet the requirements for experience and expertise for conducting rigorous, well-designed evaluations and studies of the type and scope discussed herein. Applicants are reminded that funding under this announcement is not available to support programs or service provision but rather research and evaluation.

Funding Instruments—Grants and Cooperative Agreements

ACF will issue the Financial Assistance Awards under this agreement as either grants or cooperative agreements. Cooperative agreements will be the instrument used to make awards when the amount of Federal involvement that is anticipated by ACF for a particular project is greater than is required and allowed under a grant. Cooperative agreements will be documents which outline the terms of ACF's involvement as well as the responsibilities of the recipient organization or agency. For example, multi-year awards may begin as cooperative agreements in the first year and may be converted to grants after recipients' capabilities have been established or a grant could be converted to a cooperative agreement when developments in a particular project call for greater ACF involvement.

Funding

ACF anticipates providing up to $1.95 million for the total group of approved projects in FY 1997, subject to the availability of funds. All grants and cooperative agreements will be awarded by September 30, 1997. ACF anticipates providing up to $750,000 in FY 1998, subject to the availability of funds, and like amounts in succeeding years. We estimate that this level of funding will support 4 to 8 separate projects under this announcement in FY 1997 (some of which will be parts of other, larger work). Federal funding under this announcement is intended to support research analysis and evaluation, not program operation or service provision.

As indicated, ACF anticipates funding both short-term projects and longer-term studies. In Federal FY 1997 recipients of multi-year awards may be approved for project periods of up to 60 months and will receive an initial Financial Assistance Award for a budget period of 12 months. Multi-year project recipients will be allowed to apply for additional funding in FY 1998 and subsequent years within the overall project period on a non-competitive basis.

We also encourage short-term projects which can provide useful and timely information to program administrators, e.g., implementation analysis. For these studies, we expect to make one-time awards for project and budget periods of 17 months. Applicants who are seeking funds to support short-term studies will be expected to complete the work within a maximum of 17 months. Studies which cannot be completed within that time frame will be considered for multi-year awards as described above.

We may provide sole funding for projects, provide principal funding, or support only individual components of projects which have other funders. The latter types of applications (i.e., those with other funding sources) should include an overview of the funding sources for all components of the project in addition to the Federal budget requirements detailed in Section III of this announcement.

Further, to maximize the benefit of the Federal investment to advance knowledge about welfare reform, ACF may give preference to applicants who provide evidence of other sources of funding for the project (e.g., applicant resources or private foundation funding). The applicant should describe the level, sources, and duration of non-Federal funds or resources committed to the project. Do not, however, list these funds on the budget forms SF 424 and SF 424A described in section III of this announcement. Those forms are for listing only the Federal funds requested under this announcement. There is no non-Federal matching requirement for this announcement; however, recipients will be held accountable for any non-Federal share listed on the SF 424A and the Financial Assistance Award. For this reason, it is important that applicants who provide evidence of other sources of funding for the project do not list these sources on the SF 424A.

Part II—The Review Process

A. Review Process and Funding Decisions

Timely applications from eligible applicants will be reviewed and scored competitively. Reviewers will use the evaluation criteria listed below to review and score the application.

In addition, ACF may refer applications for review to other Federal or non-Federal entities when it is determined to be in the best interest of the Federal Government or the applicant. It may also solicit comments from ACF Regional Office staff, other Federal agencies, and, if determined to be appropriate, interested foundations and national organizations. These comments along with those of the reviewers will be considered by ACF in making the funding decision.

In making award decisions, ACF will aim to fund a group of studies that together address a wide range of questions of the greatest importance to states, the Federal government, and the general public. In order to ensure that a wide array of questions, topics, and policy issues will be addressed through projects funded under this announcement, in making the final selections, in addition to the review criteria identified below, ACF may consider additional factors including geographic diversity, racial/ethnic populations served, opportunities to analyze particular sub-groups of the public assistance population, and the particular TANF provisions under examination.

Further, as noted under Funding above, to maximize the benefit of the Federal investment to stimulate research and advance knowledge about welfare reform, ACF may give preference to applicants who provide evidence of other sources of funding for the project (e.g., applicant resources or private foundation funding).

Disposition of Applications

On the basis of the review of an application, ACF will: (a) Approve the application for funding; or (b) disapprove the application; or (c) approve the application but not fund it for such reasons as a lack of funds or a need for further review.

B. Evaluation Criteria

Using the evaluation criteria below, reviewers will review and score each application. Reviewers will determine the strengths and weaknesses of each application in terms of the appropriate evaluation criteria listed below, provide comments, and assign numerical scores. The point value following each criterion heading indicates the maximum numerical weight that each criterion may be given in the review process.

(1) Organizational Experience, Skills, and Responsibilities

(25 points) The application should provide evidence of the organization's experience in conducting the sort of research analysis proposed. This experience should include background in research on populations receiving public assistance, i.e., title IV-A program benefits, Food Stamps, Medicaid, employment and training program systems, child care subsidies, etc. The application should list key individuals who will work on the project, including all professional staff and (if known) any contractor staff, along with a short description of the nature of their contribution and relevant staff experience.

If more than one agency or organization will conduct the study, the application should identify the managing organization (i.e., the entity applying for the Financial Assistance Award) as well as other organizations involved. The application should address each organization's experience with regard to this criterion.

If the research is to be conducted in specific sites or with specific organizations, evidence of commitment by appropriate entities to participate fully, as defined by the project design, to support the requirements of the research (e.g., provide data, participate in interviews) must be included in the application.

(2) Research Questions: (25 points)

The application must include the principal questions to be addressed by the study and the research hypotheses related to those questions, if appropriate. If the application to ACF is for funding of a particular component of a larger study, the applicant should describe the objective of the entire study and explain in detail the questions to be addressed by the activities for which ACF funding is requested. The application will be judged on the extent to which the questions identified include important unanswered questions regarding welfare reform or address areas in which additional information is most critically needed.

(3) Project Design: (40 points) The application should describe in detail the project's methods for answering the research questions proposed. Explain why the methods proposed are adequate to address the research questions. Note any weaknesses in the proposed research design and what will be done to compensate for those weaknesses. The application will be judged on the extent to which the evaluation project design (i.e., methods) proposed is adequate and appropriate to measure the key outcomes identified and answer the research questions posed in the application.

(4) Budget Appropriateness: (10 points) The application should include a narrative justification for budget items and demonstrate that the project's costs are reasonable and necessary to support the specific project design and evaluation methods proposed and in view of the anticipated results and benefits. Applicants should refer to the budget information presented in the Standard Forms 424 and 424A.

Part III—Instructions for the Development and Submission of Applications

This part contains information and instructions for submitting applications in response to this announcement. The forms to be used for submitting an application follow this part. Please reproduce single-sided copies of the forms and type your information onto the copies. Do not use forms directly from the Federal Register announcement, as they are printed on both sides of the page.

The SF-424 and the SF-424A are available in .PDF file format at <http://mercury.psc.dhhs.gov/forms/sforms.htm>. They are also available through FTP at <ftp://aosftp.psc.dhhs.gov/pub/forms/sf/>.

This part concludes with a checklist for assembling an application package.

A. Deadline for Submittal of Applications

The closing date for submission of applications is July 28, 1997. Mailed applications postmarked after the closing date will be classified as late.

Deadline

Mailed applications shall be considered as meeting an announced deadline if they are either received on or before the deadline date or sent on or before the deadline date and received by ACF in time for the independent review to: U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Division of Discretionary Grants and Audit Resolution, Attention: Lois B. Hodge, 370 L'Enfant Promenade, S.W., Mail Stop 6C-462, Washington, D.C. 20447.

Applicants must ensure that a legibly dated U.S. Postal Service postmark or a legibly dated, machine produced postmark of a commercial mail service is affixed to the envelope/package containing the application(s). A postmark from a commercial mail service must include the logo/emblem of the commercial mail service company and must reflect the date the package was received by the commercial mail service company from the applicant. Private Metered postmarks shall not be acceptable as proof of timely mailing. (Applicants are cautioned that express/overnight mail services do not always deliver as agreed.)

Applications handcarried by applicants, applicant couriers, or by other representatives of the applicant shall be considered as meeting an announced deadline if they are received on or before the deadline date, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., EST, at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Division of Discretionary Grants and Audit Resolution, ACF Mailroom, 2nd Floor Loading Dock, Aerospace Center, 901 D Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20024, between Monday and Friday (excluding Federal holidays). The address must appear on the envelope/package containing the application with the note "Attention: Lois B. Hodge. (Applicants are cautioned that express/overnight mail services do not always deliver as agreed.)"

ACF cannot accommodate transmission of applications by fax or through other electronic media. Therefore, applications transmitted to ACF electronically will not be accepted regardless of date or time of submission and time of receipt.

Late Applications

Applications which do not meet the criteria above are considered late applications. ACF shall notify each late applicant that its application will not be considered in the current competition.

Extension of Deadlines

ACF may extend the deadline for all applicants because of acts of God such as floods and hurricanes, widespread disruption of the mails, or when it is anticipated that many of the applications will come from rural or remote areas. However, if ACF does not extend the deadline for all applicants, it may not waive or extend the deadline for any applicants.

B. Instructions for Preparing the Application

In order to assist applicants in completing the application, the Standard Forms 424 and 424A and required certifications have been included at the end of Part III of this announcement. Please prepare your application in accordance with the following instructions:

This budget should include only the Federal funding for the proposed project for the first 12-month budget period or for up to a 17-month period if applying for one-time support for a short-term study. The total budget should equal item 15g, total funding, on the SF 424 (cover sheet). Under column (5), enter the same amounts by object class category entered in column (1). Columns (2), (3), and (4) should remain blank.

A separate budget justification should be included to explain fully and justify major items, as indicated below. The types of information to be included in the justification are indicated under each category. The budget justification should immediately follow the second page of the SF 424A.

Personnel—Line 6a. Enter the total costs of salaries and wages of applicant/grantee staff. Do not include the costs of consultants, which should be included on line 6h, "Other."

Justification: Identify the project director, if known. Specify by title or name the percentage of time allocated to the project, the individual annual salaries, and the Federal cost to the project of the organization's staff who will be working on the project.

Fringe Benefits—Line 6b. Enter the total costs of fringe benefits.

Justification: Provide a break-down of amounts and percentages that comprise fringe benefit costs, such as health insurance, FICA, retirement insurance, etc.

Travel—6c. Enter total costs of out-of-town travel (travel requiring per diem) for staff of the project. Do not enter costs for consultant's travel or local transportation, which should be included on Line 6h, "Other."

Justification: Include the name(s) of traveler(s), total number of trips, destinations, length of stay, transportation costs and subsistence allowances.

Equipment—Line 6d. Enter the total costs of all equipment to be acquired by the project. For grants governed by the administrative requirements of either 45 CFR part 92 or 45 CFR part 74, equipment is defined as tangible, non-expendable personal property having a useful life of more than one year and an acquisition cost of $5,000 or more per unit.

Justification: Equipment to be purchased with Federal funds must be justified. The equipment must be required to conduct the project, and the applicant organization or its subgrantees must not have the equipment or a reasonable facsimile available to the project. The justification also must contain plans for future use or disposal of the equipment after the project ends.

Supplies—Line 6e. Enter the total costs of all tangible expendable personal property (supplies) other than those included on Line 6d.

Justification: Specify general categories of supplies and their costs.

Contractual—Line 6f. Enter the total costs of all contracts, including procurement contracts (except those which belong on other lines such as equipment, supplies, etc.) and contracts with secondary recipient organizations. Also include any contracts with organizations for the provision of technical assistance. Do not include payments to individuals on this line.

Justification: Attach a list of contractors, indicating the names of the organizations, the purposes of the contracts, and the estimated dollar amounts of the awards as part of the budget justification. Whenever the applicant/grantee intends to delegate part or all of the project to another agency, the applicant/grantee must complete this section (Section B, Budget Categories) for each delegate agency by agency title, along with the supporting information. The total cost of all such agencies will be part of the amount shown on Line 6f. Provide backup documentation identifying the name of contractor, purpose of contract, and major cost elements.

Other—Line 6h. Enter the total of all other costs. Where applicable, such costs may include, but are not limited to: insurance; medical and dental costs; noncontractual fees and travel paid directly to individual consultants; local transportation (all travel which does not require per diem is considered local travel); space and equipment rentals; printing and publication; computer use; training costs, including tuition and stipends; training service costs, including wage payments to individuals and supportive service payments; and staff development costs. Note that costs identified as "miscellaneous" and "honoraria" are not allowable.

Justification: Specify the costs included.

Total Direct Charges—Line 6i. Enter the total of Lines 6a through 6h.

Indirect Charges—6j. Enter the total amount of indirect charges (costs). If no indirect costs are requested, enter "none." This line should be used when the applicant (except local governments) has a current indirect cost rate agreement approved by the Department of Health and Human Services or another Federal agency.

Local and State governments should enter the amount of indirect costs determined in accordance with HHS requirements. When an indirect cost rate is requested, these costs are included in the indirect cost pool and should not be charged again as direct costs to the grant. In the case of training grants to other than State or local governments (as defined in title 45, Code of Federal Regulations, part 74), the Federal reimbursement of indirect costs will be limited to the lesser of the negotiated (or actual) indirect cost rate or 8 percent of the amount allowed for direct costs, exclusive of any equipment charges, rental of space, tuition and fees, post-doctoral training allowances, contractual items, and alterations and renovations.

Justification: Enclose a copy of the indirect cost rate agreement, if indirect costs are requested.

Total—Line 6k. Enter the total amounts of lines 6i and 6j.

Program Income—Line 7. Enter the estimated amount of income, if any, expected to be generated from this project. Do not add or subtract this amount from the total project amount. As stated under Eligible Applicants above, private for-profit entities must waive any fees in order to compete for these funds.

Justification: Describe the nature, source, and anticipated use of program income in the Project Narrative Statement.

Section C—Non-Federal Resources. Not applicable—Leave blank. However, as noted in the program announcement, applicants which are utilizing multiple funders should include a discussion or presentation of such funding in the application.

Section D—Forecasted Cash Needs. Enter the amount of cash needed by quarter from the award made by ACF during the first year.

to 60 months. In this section, provide annual estimates of the Federal funds needed for the balance of the project.

Justification: Describe the anticipated use of latter year project expenses in the Project Narrative Statement.

Section F—Other Budget Information. Not applicable—Leave blank.

General Instructions

This form is designed so that application can be made for funds from one or more grant programs. In preparing the budget, adhere to any existing Federal grantor agency guidelines which prescribe how and whether budgeted amounts should be separately shown for different functions or activities within the program. For some programs, grantor agencies may require budgets to be separately shown by function or activity. For other programs, grantor agencies may require a breakdown by function or activity. Sections A, B, C, and D should include budget estimates for the whole project except when applying for assistance which requires Federal authorization in annual or other funding period increments. In the latter case, Section A, B, C, and D should provide the budget for the first budget period (usually a year) and Section E should present the need for Federal assistance in the subsequent budget periods. All applications should contain a breakdown by the object class categories shown in Lines a-k of Section B.

Section A. Budget Summary Lines 1-4, Columns (a) and (b)

For applications pertaining to a single Federal grant program (Federal Domestic Assistance Catalog number) and not requiring a functional or activity breakdown, enter on Line 1 under Column (a) the catalog program title and the catalog number in Column (b).

For applications pertaining to a single program requiring budget amounts by multiple function or activities, enter the name of each activity or function on each line in Column (a), and enter the catalog number in Column (b). For applications pertaining to multiple programs where none of the programs require a breakdown by function or activity, enter the catalog program title on each line in Column (a) and the respective catalog number of each line in Column (b).

For applications pertaining to multiple programs where one or more programs require a breakdown by function or activity, prepare a separate sheet for each program requiring the breakdown. Additional sheets should be used when one form does not provide adequate space for all breakdown of data required. However, when more than one sheet is used, the first page should provide the summary totals by programs.

Lines 1-4, Columns (c) through (g).

For new applications, leave Columns (c) and (d) blank. For each line entry in Columns (a) and (b), enter in Columns (e), (f), and (g) the appropriate amounts of funds needed to support the project for the first funding period (usually a year).

For continuing grant program applications, submit these forms before the end of each funding period as required by the grantor agency. Enter in Columns (c) and (d) the estimated amounts of funds which will remain unobligated at the end of the grant funding period only if the Federal grantor agency instructions provide for this. Otherwise, leave these columns blank. Enter in Columns (e) and (f) the amounts of funds needed for the upcoming period. The amount(s) in Column (g) should be the sum of amounts in Columns 9(e) and (f).

For supplemental grants and changes in existing grants, do not use Columns (c) and (d). Enter in Column (e) the amount of the increase or decrease of Federal funds and enter in Column (f) the amount of the increase or decrease of non-Federal funds. In Column (g) enter the new total budgeted amount (Federal and non-Federal) which includes the total previous authorized budgeted amounts plus or minus, as appropriate, the amounts shown in Columns (e) and (f). The amount(s) in Column (g) should not equal the sum of amounts in Columns (e) and (f).

Line 5—Show the total for all columns used.

Section B. Budget Categories

In the column headings (1) through (4), enter the titles of the same programs, functions, and activities shown on Lines 1-4, Column (a), Section A. When additional sheets are prepared for Section A, provide similar column headings on each sheet. For each program, function or activity, fill in the total requirements for funds (both Federal and non-Federal) by object class categories.

Lines 6a-1—Show the totals of Lines 6a to 6h in each column.

Line 6i—Show the amount of indirect cost.

Line 6k—Enter the total of amounts on Lines 6i and 6j. For all applications for new grants and continuation grants the total amount in Column (5), Line 6k, should be the same as the total amount shown in Section A, Column (g), Line 5. For supplemental grants and changes to grants, the total amount of the increase or decrease as shown in Columns (1)-(4), Line 6k, should be the same as the sum of the amounts in Section A, Columns (e) and (f) on Line 5.

Line 7—Enter the estimated amount of income, if any, expected to be generated from this project. Do not all or subtract this amount from the total project amount. Show under the program narrative statement the nature and source of income. The estimated amount of program income may be considered by the Federal grantor agency in determining the total amount of the grant.

Section C. Non-Federal Resources.

Lines 8-11 Enter amounts of non-Federal resources that will be used on the grant. If in-kind contributions are included, provide a brief explanation on a separate sheet.

For new applications and continuation grant applications, enter in the proper columns amounts of Federal funds which will be needed to complete the program or project over the succeeding funding periods (usually in years). This section need not be completed for revisions (amendments, changes, or supplements) to funds for the current year of existing grants.

If more than four lines are needed to list the program titles, submit additional schedules as necessary.

Line 20—Enter the total for each of the Columns (b)-(e). When additional schedules are prepared for this Section, annotate accordingly and show the overall totals on this line.

Instructions for Certification

1. By signing and submitting this proposal, the prospective primary participant is providing the certification set out below.

2. The inability of a person to provide the certification required below will not necessarily result in denial of participation in this covered transaction. The prospective participant shall submit an explanation of why it cannot provide the certification set out below. The certification or explanation will be considered in connection with the department or agency's determination whether to enter into this transaction. However, failure of the prospective primary participant to furnish a certification or an explanation shall disqualify such person from participation in this transaction.

3. The certification in this clause is a material representation of fact upon which reliance was placed when the department or agency determined to enter into this transaction. If it is later determined that the prospective primary participant knowingly rendered an erroneous certification, addition to other remedies available to the Federal Government, the department or agency may terminate this transaction for cause or default.

4. The prospective primary participant shall provide immediate written notice to the department or agency to which this proposal is submitted if at any time the prospective primary participant learns that its certification was erroneous when submitted or has become erroneous by reason of changed circumstances.

5. The terms covered transaction, debarred, suspended, ineligible, lower tier covered transaction, participant, person primary covered transaction, principal, proposal, and voluntarily excluded, as used in this clause, have the meanings set out in the Definitions and Coverage sections of the rules implementing Executive Order 12549. A participant may decide the method and frequency by which it determines the eligibility of its principals. Each participant may, but is not required to, check the List of Parties Excluded from Federal Procurement and Nonprocurement Programs.

The knowledge and information of a participant is not required to exceed that which is normally possessed by a prudent person in the ordinary course of business dealings.

10. Except for transactions authorized under paragraph 6 of these instructions, if a

This certification is required by the regulations implementing the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988: 45 CFR Part 76, Subpart F. Sections 76.630 (c) and (d)(2) and 76.645(a)(1) and (b) provide that a Federal agency may designate a central receipt point for STATE-WIDE AND STATE AGENCY-WIDE certifications, and for notification of criminal drug convictions. For the Department of Health and Human Services, the central point is: Division of Grants Management and Oversight, Office of Management and Acquisition, Department of Health and Human Services, Room 517-D, 200 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20201.

Certification Regarding Drug-Free Workplace Requirements

(Instructions for Certification)

1. By signing and/or submitting this application or grant agreement, the grantee is providing the certification set out below.

2. The certification set out below is a material representation of fact upon which reliance is placed when the agency awards the grant. If it is later determined that the grantee knowingly rendered a false conviction, or otherwise violates the requirements of the Drug-Free Workplace Act, the agency, in addition to any other remedies available to the Federal Government, may take action authorized under the Drug-Free Workplace Act.

3. For grantees other than individuals, Alternate I applies.

4. For grantees who are individuals, Alternate II applies.

5. Workplaces under grants, for grantees other than individuals, need not be identified on the certification. If known, they may be identified in the grant application. If the grantees does not identify the workplace at the time of application, or upon award, if there is no application, the grantee must keep the identity of the workplace(s) on file in its office and make the information available for Federal inspection. Failure to identify all known workplaces constitutes a violation of the grantee's drug-free workplace requirements.

6. Workplace identifications must include the actual address of buildings (or parts of buildings) or other sites where work under the grant takes place. Categorical descriptions may be used (e.g., all vehicles of a mass transit authority or State highway department while in operation, State employees in each local unemployment office, performers in concert halls or radio studios).

7. If the workplace identified to the agency changes during the performance of the grant, the grantee shall inform the agency of the change(s), if it previously identified the workplaces in question (see paragraph five).

8. Definitions of terms in the Nonprocurement Suspension and Debarment common rule and Drug-Free Workplace common rule apply to this certification. Grantees' attention is called, in particular, to the following definitions from these rules:

Controlled substance means a controlled substance in Schedules I through V of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 812) and as further defined by regulation (21 CFR 1308.11 through 1308.15);

Conviction means a finding of guilt (including a plea of nolo contendere) or imposition of sentence, or both, by any judicial body charged with the responsibility to determine violations of the Federal or State criminal drug statutes;

Criminal drug statute means a Federal or non-Federal criminal statute involving the manufacture, distribution, dispensing, use, or possession of any controlled substance;

Employee means the employee of a grantee directly engaged in the performance of work under a grant, including: (i) All direct charge employees; (ii) All indirect charge employees unless their impact or involvement is insignificant to the performance of the grant; and, (iii) Temporary personnel and consultants who are directly engaged in the performance of work under the grant and who are on the grantee's payroll. This definition does not include workers not on the payroll of the grantee (e.g., volunteers, even if used to meet a matching requirement; consultants or independent contractors not on the grantee's payroll; or employees of subrecipients or subcontractors in covered workplaces).

Certification Regarding Drug-Free Workplace Requirements

Alternate I. (Grantees Other Than Individuals)

The grantee certifies that it will or will continue to provide a drug-free workplace by:

(a) Publishing a statement notifying employees that the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in the grantee's workplace and specifying the actions that will be taken against employees for violation of such prohibition;

(b) Establishing an ongoing drug-free awareness program to inform employees about—

(1) The dangers of drug abuse in the workplace;

(2) The grantee's policy of maintaining a drug-free workplace;

(3) Any available drug counseling, rehabilitation, and employee assistance programs; and

(4) The penalties that may be imposed upon employees for drug abuse violations occurring in the workplace;

(c) Making it a requirement that each employee to be engaged in the performance of the grant be given a copy of the statement required by paragraph (a);

(d) Notifying the employee in the statement required by paragraph (a) that, as a condition of employment under the grant, the employee will—

(1) Abide by the terms of the statement; and

(2) Notify the employer in writing of his or her conviction for a violation of a criminal drug statute occurring in the workplace no later than five calendar days after such conviction;

(e) Notifying the agency in writing, within ten calendar days after receiving notice under paragraph (d)(2) from an employee or otherwise receiving actual notice of such conviction. Employers of convicted employees must provide notice, including position title, to every grant officer or other designee on whose grant activity the convicted employee was working, unless the Federal agency has designated a central point for the receipt of such notices. Notice shall include the identification number(s) of each affected grant;

(f) Taking one of the following actions, within 30 calendar days of receiving notice under paragraph (d)(2), with respect to any employee who is so convicted—

(1) Taking appropriate personnel action against such an employee, up to and including termination, consistent with the requirements of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended; or

(2) Requiring such employee to participate satisfactorily in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program approved for such purposes by a Federal, State, or local health, law enforcement, or other appropriate agency;

(g) Making a good faith effort to continue to maintain a drug-free workplace through implementation of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f).

(B) The grantee may insert in the space provided below the site(s) for the performance of work done in connection with the specific grant:

Place of Performance (Street address, city, county, state, zip code)

Check ☐ if there are workplaces on file that are not identified here.

Alternate II. (Grantees Who Are Individuals)

(a) The grantee certifies that, as a condition of the grant, he or she will not engage in the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of a controlled substance in conducting any activity with the grant;

(b) If convicted of a criminal drug offense resulting from a violation occurring during the conduct of any grant activity, he or she will report the conviction, in writing, within 10 calendar days of the conviction, to every grant officer or other designee, unless the Federal agency designates a central point for the receipt of such notices. When notice is made to such a central point, it shall include the identification number(s) of each affected grant.
