Background

On August 24, 1998, the Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board (Access Board) published a notice of intent to establish an advisory committee to provide recommendations for a proposed rule addressing accessibility standards for electronic and information technology covered by the Rehabilitation Act Amendments of 1998. 63 FR 45041 (August 24, 1998). The notice identified the interests that are likely to be significantly affected by the accessibility standards: Federal agencies and Federal contractors; the electronic and information technology industry; organizations representing the access needs of individuals with disabilities; and other persons affected by accessibility standards for electronic and information technology.

Approximately 50 nominations were submitted. About 10 nominations were received from individual members of the public who have disabilities (or have family members who have disabilities). Nineteen nominations were received from organizations representing persons with disabilities. Three nominations were received from access consultants with experience in accessibility issues. The remaining nominations primarily consisted of organizations representing the electronic and information technology industry which includes some Federal, State, and local government entities.

For the reasons stated in the notice of intent, the Access Board has determined that establishing the Electronic and

Information Technology Access Advisory Committee (Committee) is necessary and in the public interest. The Access Board has appointed 23 members to the Committee from the following organizations:

American Council of the Blind
American Foundation for the Blind
Arkenstone, Inc.

Association of Access Engineering
Specialists

Association of Tech Act Projects

Easter Seals

Electronic Industries Alliance

FutureForms

Georgia Institute of Technology

IBM Special Needs Center

Meeting the Challenge, Inc.

Microsoft Corporation

NCR Corporation

National Association of the Deaf

National Federation of the Blind

National Industries for the Blind

National Science Foundation

Self Help for Hard of Hearing People,
Inc.

Trace Research and Development Center

United Cerebral Palsy Associations

WGBH National Center for Accessible

Media

WebABLE! Solutions

World Wide Web Consortium, Web

Accessibility Initiative

The Board plans to involve other Federal agencies through a less formal, but certainly no less important, ad hoc committee comprised of those Federal agencies identified in section 508 (a)(2)(A) and public members of the Board. This committee will assist the Board's staff in preparing proposed and final standards. The Access Board regrets being unable to accommodate all requests for membership on the Committee. In order to keep the Committee to a size that can be effective, it was necessary to limit membership. It is also desirable to have balance among members of the Committee representing different clusters of interest, such as disability organizations and the electronic and information technology industry. The Committee membership identified above provides representation for each interest affected by issues to be discussed.

Committee meetings will be open to the public and interested persons can attend the meetings and communicate their views. Members of the public will have an opportunity to address the Committee on issues of interest to them and the Committee. Members of groups or individuals who are not members of the Committee may also have the opportunity to participate with subcommittees of the Committee. The Access Board believes that participation of this kind can be very valuable for the advisory committee process.

Additionally, all interested persons will have the opportunity to comment when the proposed accessibility standards for electronic and information technology are issued in the Federal Register by the Access Board.

The meeting site is accessible to individuals with disabilities. Sign language interpreters and real-time captioning will be provided. Decisions with respect to future meetings will be made at the first meeting. Notices of future meetings will be published in the Federal Register.
