[Docket No. CP98-230-000]

Questar Pipeline Company; Notice of Request Under Blanket Authorization

February 17, 1998.

Take notice that on February 13, 1998, Questar Pipeline Company (Questar), 180 East 100 South Salt Lake City, Utah 84145, filed a prior notice request with the Commission in Docket No. CP98-230-000 pursuant to Section 157.205 of the Commission's Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (NGA) for authorization to increase the maximum certificated storage capacity of its Clay Basin storage field (Clay Basin) in Daggett County, Utah, under Questar's blanket certificates issued in Docket Nos. CP82-491-000 and CP88-650-000 pursuant to Section 7 of the NGA, all as more fully set forth in the request which is open to the public for inspection.

Questar proposes to increase (1) the maximum certificated natural gas storage capacity at Clay Basin from 110.0 Bcf (46.3 Bcf of working gas) to 117.5 Bcf (51.3 Bcf of working gas) and (2) the maximum reservoir shut-in pressure from 2,360 psia to 2,517 psia, the original gas-in-place discovery pressure. Questar states that no new facilities would be required to increase the capacity of Clay Basin. Questar further states that the average depth of the storage formation is 5,800 feet and that the increased storage capacity would be used to provide open-access storage services.

Questar states that it would use 5.0 Bcf of the proposed increased capacity for working-gas inventory and 2.5 Bcf of the proposed increased capacity for cushion gas to support the additional working-gas inventory capacity. Questar also states that the additional 5.0 Bcf of working-gas capacity would increase the Minimum Required Deliverability (MRD) from 385 MMcf of natural gas per day to 427 MMcf of natural gas per day.

Questar explains that (1) the proposed 117.5 Bcf of storage inventory capacity equals the original natural gas volume determined to be in place at the time of discovery; (2) the increased storage inventory reservoir shut-in pressure would not exceed the original gas-in-place discovery pressure of 2,517 psia; (3) the required number of days needed to inject the increased working-gas inventory level of 51.3 Bcf would be 152 days, well within the 184-day injection season (May 1 to October 31) provided for in Questar's tariff; (4) the entire 5.0 Bcf of expanded working gas capacity
