

Based on the manner of interment, the associated funerary objects, and the condition of the remains, this individual has been identified as Native American from the historic period. Prior to 1881, the site from which the human remains were recovered was a known grave area of the Uncompahgre Band of the Ute Nation. After 1881, all Ute Bands relocated to their present reservations. No other Indian tribes are known to have inhabited the Uncompahgre Valley during the historic period.

Based on the above mentioned information, officials of the Delta County Historical Society have determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (d)(1), the human remains listed above represent the physical remains of one individual of Native American ancestry. Officials of the Delta County Historical Society have also determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (d)(2), the two objects listed above are reasonably believed to have been placed with or near individual human remains at the time of death or later as part of the death rite or ceremony. Lastly, officials of the Delta County Historical Society have determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (e), there is a relationship of shared group identity which can be reasonably traced between these Native American human remains and associated funerary objects and the Ute Indian Tribe of the Unitah and Ouray Reservation.

This notice has been sent to officials of the Ute Indian Tribe of the Unitah and Ouray Reservation, and the Ute Mountain Tribe of the Ute Mountain Reservation. Representatives of any other Indian tribe that believes itself to be culturally affiliated with these human remains and associated funerary objects should contact James K. Wetzel, Curator, Delta County Historical Society Museum, 251 Meeker Street, Delta, CO; telephone: (970) 874-8721, before June 28, 1999. Repatriation of the human remains and associated funerary objects to the Ute Indian Tribe of the Unitah and Ouray Reservation may begin after that date if no additional claimants come forward.

Dated: May 13, 1999.

National Park Service

Notice of Intent to Repatriate Cultural Items in the Possession of the Maxwell Museum of Anthropology, University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, NM

AGENCY: National Park Service, Interior.

ACTION: Notice.

Notice is hereby given under the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act, 43 CFR 10.10 (a)(3), of the intent to repatriate cultural items in the possession of the Maxwell Museum of Anthropology, University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, NM which meet the definition of "object of cultural patrimony" under Section 2 of the Act.

The 13 cultural items consist of ten Dilzini Gaan masks, two dance wands, and one Medicine Man's feathered cap. These objects are constructed of wood, cloth, hide, string, thread, beads, and feathers.

In 1961, a set of five Dilzini Gaan masks (61.3.70-61.3.74) was donated to the Maxwell Museum by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Imhof. In 1968 and 1969, another set of five Dilzini Gaan masks (75.1.1-75.1.4 and 76.1.32) were purchased for the Maxwell Museum by J.J. Brody. In 1970, the two dance wands were donated to the museum by Florence Hawley Ellis. In 1960, the Medicine Man's feathered cap was donated to the Maxwell Museum by Tom Bahti.

The cultural affiliation of these cultural items is San Carlos Apache as indicated through donor information, museum records, and consultation with representatives of the San Carlos Apache Tribe of the San Carlos Reservation, White Mountain Apache Tribe of the Fort Apache Reservation, and the Yavapai-Apache Nation of the Camp Verde Indian Reservation. Representatives of the San Carlos Apache Tribe of the San Carlos Reservation have further stated these items have ongoing historical, traditional, and cultural importance central to the tribe itself, and no individual had or has the right to alienate them. Information regarding the status of these cultural items is being withheld from this notice by the Maxwell Museum of Anthropology at the request of the representatives of the San Carlos Apache Tribe of the San Carlos Reservation in order not to compromise the San Carlos Apache Tribe of the San Carlos Reservation's code of religious practice.

Based on the above mentioned information, officials of the Maxwell Museum of Anthropology, University of New Mexico have determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (d)(4), these 13 cultural items have ongoing historical, traditional, and cultural importance central to the culture itself, and could not have been alienated, appropriated, or conveyed by any individual. Officials of the Maxwell Museum of Anthropology, University of New Mexico have also determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (e), there is a relationship of shared group identity which can be reasonably traced between these items and the San Carlos Apache Tribe of the San Carlos Reservation.

This notice has been sent to officials of the San Carlos Apache Tribe of the San Carlos Reservation, White Mountain Apache Tribe of the Fort Apache Reservation, the Yavapai-Apache Nation of the Camp Verde Indian Reservation, the Tonto Apache Tribe, and the Mescalero Apache Tribe of the Mescalero Reservation. Representatives of any other Indian tribe that believes itself to be culturally affiliated with these objects should contact Brenda A. Dorr, NAGPRA Project Director, Maxwell Museum of Anthropology, University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, NM 87131-1201; telephone: (505) 277-0195 before June 28, 1999. Repatriation of these objects to the San Carlos Apache Tribe of the San Carlos Reservation may begin after that date if no additional claimants come forward.

Dated: May 18, 1999.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

[AAG/A Order No. 167-99]

Privacy Act of 1974; Notice of the Removal of a System of Records

Pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a), the Procurement Policy and Review Group, Management and Planning Staff, Justice Management Division (JMD) is removing a published Privacy Act system of records entitled "Delegations of Procurement Authority (DPA), JUSTICE/JMD-018." JUSTICE/JMD-018 was last published in the Federal Register on October 10, 1995, (60 FR 52704).

The DPA is no longer being used or maintained. The system was originally used, as part of a pre-award review of contract actions above a certain threshold, to ensure contracting officers in the Department's bureaus were exercising their procurement authority in accordance with the terms of their delegations. The system was also used to track training and career progression of bureau contracting officers. On May 31, 1995, the Procurement Executive discontinued the practice of performing pre-award reviews of all contract actions, including checks of contracting officers' delegations. In addition, consistent with the Justice Acquisition Regulations (63 FR 16118-16136), which delegate the responsibility of developing and managing career development programs to the bureaus, the DPA is no longer used for career development purposes.
