This action is directed to the public in general. This action may, however, be of interest to manufacturers of pesticides; farmers applying pesticides to crops; persons living in the general areas where pesticides are being used; researchers in industry, government, and academia studying the effectiveness of pesticides; and individuals and organizations studying the effects of pesticides on the environment. Since other entities may also be interested, the Agency has not attempted to describe all the specific entities that may be affected by this action. Applications of the five sessions are further described below. If you have any questions regarding the details of a particular session, consult the persons listed under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT.

II. How Can I Get Additional Information, Including Copies of this Document or Other Related Documents?

1. Electronically. You may obtain electronic copies of this document, and certain other related documents that might be available electronically, from the EPA Internet Home Page at <http://www.epa.gov/>. To access this document, on the Home Page select "Laws and Regulations" and then look up the entry for this document under the "Federal Register—Environmental Documents." You can also go directly to the Federal Register listings at <http://www.epa.gov/fedrgstr/>. The meeting agenda and EPA primary background documents will be available at <http://www.epa.gov/pesticides/SAP/>.

2. In person. The Agency has established an official record for this action under docket control number OPP-00620. The official record consists of the documents specifically referenced in this action, any public comments received during an applicable comment period, and other information related to this action, including information claimed as confidential business information (CBI). The public version of the official record, which includes printed, paper versions of any electronic comments submitted during an applicable comment period, is available for inspection in the Public Information and Records Integrity Branch (PIRIB), Rm. 119, Crystal Mall #2, 1921 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, VA, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding legal holidays. The PIRIB telephone number is (703) 305-5805.

III. Sessions Overview

Session I will be the review of issues pertaining to the assessment of residential exposure to pesticides. When estimating aggregate exposure to a pesticide substance, the Agency includes exposures that may occur following use of the pesticide in residential or other non-occupational settings. This session will focus on several key issues that pertain to improving procedures for estimating exposure to pesticides from use in residential or other non-occupational settings and in revising its standard operating procedures for residential exposure assessments. The issues include: (1) Calculating percent dislodgeability of available pesticide residues from lawns, indoor surfaces, and pets; (2) use of choreographed activities as surrogates for estimating a child's dermal exposure; (3) characterizing hand (or object)-to-mouth activities; (4) calculating exposure to pesticides that may result from track-in, drift, bathing or showering; and (5) calculating exposure from use of pesticides in schools, day-care centers, and other public places.

Session II provides a review of an aggregate exposure assessment tool being developed through a cooperative agreement with Hampshire Research Institute (HRI). The Agency is working collaboratively under this cooperative agreement with HRI to create a tool that is publicly available, open software with no hidden logic; uses HRI's micro-exposure event analysis method; incorporates an object-oriented design that allows for continuing refinement and improvement; and includes a design that addresses known future requirements for pesticide analysis, such as cumulative risk assessment. The purpose of this session is for Agency scientists to consult with the SAP regarding the current status and future development options of this tool.

Session III emphasizes the identification of carbamate pesticides that have a common mechanism of toxicity. The identification of pesticides and other substances that cause a common toxic effect by a common mechanism is the first step of the cumulative risk assessment process (as required by the FQPA). The Agency has developed a framework for identifying chemicals that have a common mechanism of toxicity (February 5, 1999, 64 FR 5796) (FRL-6060-7). This session will describe the results of the Agency's effort to determine whether (1) carbamate pesticides cause a common toxic effect by a common mechanism and (2) if any carbamate pesticides share a common mechanism of toxicity with organophosphorus pesticides.

Session IV addresses issues pertaining to cumulating hazard for conducting cumulative risk assessments for pesticides that have a common mechanism of toxicity. The Agency is preparing guidance for assessing cumulative risk in support of the Food Quality Protection Act 1996. This session will focus on key hazard and dose response issues involved with cumulating risk from exposure to two or more chemicals that are toxic by a common mechanism. These issues deal with, for example: (1) End point selection; (2) application of adjustment and group uncertainty factors; (3) interspecies dose adjustments; (4) utilization of dose-response data and selection of a point of departure; and (5) methods for combining toxicity data. In addition, science policy issues such as assumptions concerning dose addition and dose response relationships will be presented. The Agency needs input from the SAP and the public on the hazard and toxicological issues that concern cumulative risk assessment.

Session V concerns the review of the American Cyanamid Company's April 22, 1999 probabilistic assessment (MRID No. 448098-01) for chlorfenapyr. In December 1994, the Agency received a request for registration for the use of the pyrrole insecticide, chlorfenapyr on cotton. As a part of the registration package, American Cyanamid Company submitted a probabilistic assessment. The Agency is seeking SAP input regarding: (1) American Cyanamid's probabilistic assessment and how it may be improved; (2) the Agency's review of the assessment; and (3) the utility of using this assessment to characterize the risk of chlorfenapyr use on cotton to birds in cotton agroenvironments.

IV. How Can I Request To Participate in this Meeting?

Members of the public wishing to submit comments should contact either Paul Lewis or Laura Morris at the address or the telephone number given under FOR FURTHER INFORMATION

CONTACT to confirm that the meeting date and the agenda have not been modified or changed. Interested persons are permitted to file written statements before the meeting. To the extent that time permits, and upon advanced written request to either Paul Lewis or Laura Morris, interested persons may be permitted by the Chair of the SAP to present oral statements at the meeting. The request should identify the name of the individual making the presentation, the organization (if any) the individual will represent, and any requirements for audiovisual equipment (e.g., overhead projector, 35 mm projector, and chalkboard). There is no limit on the length of written comments for consideration by the Panel, but oral statements before the Panel are limited to approximately 5 minutes. The Agency also urges the public to submit written comments in lieu of oral presentations. Persons wishing to make oral and/or written statements should notify either Paul Lewis or Laura Morris and submit 40 copies of the summary information. The Agency encourages that written statements be submitted before the meeting to provide Panel Members the time necessary to consider and review the comments.

Electronic comments must be submitted as an ASCII file avoiding the use of special characters and any form of encryption. Comments and data also will be accepted on disks in WordPerfect in 5.1/6/7/8.0 file format or ASCII file format. All comments and data in electronic form must be identified by the docket control number "OPP-00620." Electronic comments may be filed online at many Federal Depository Libraries.

Information submitted as a comment in response to this notice may be claimed confidential by marking any part or all of that information as CBI.

Information marked CBI will not be disclosed except in accordance with procedures set forth in 40 CFR part 2. An edited copy of the comment that does not contain the CBI material must be submitted for inclusion in the public docket. Information not marked confidential will be included in the public docket. All comments and materials received will be made part of the public record and will be considered by the Panel.
