SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Operating Guidelines, Forms and Waivers.

OMB Number: 0584-0083.

Expiration Date: October 2002.

Type of Request: Addition to a currently approved collection.

Abstract: On February 23, 1999, the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) published a proposed rule at 64 FR 8733 without including separate notice of a new information collection burden in OMB No. 0584-0083. This notice corrects that omission and explains the new information collection burden for Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) system reporting.

EBT systems currently deliver about 67% of all Food Stamp Program (FSP) benefits. Forty-one States and the District of Columbia have EBT systems and thirty-four of those are implemented throughout the entire State or the District. In 1990, Congress allowed EBT as an option to States for the delivery of FSP benefits. In 1996 Congress mandated that all State agencies must deliver FSP benefits using EBT systems by October 1, 2002.

For the FSP, EBT systems move money from Federal accounts held in the name of each State to accounts at banks and other financial institutions held by or for food retailers. Retailers must first be authorized by FNS to accept food stamp benefits. States determine the eligibility and the monthly FSP allotments for recipients. They give each household a plastic EBT card and a Personal Identification Number (PIN). State EBT systems operate like a debit card system with an immediate decrement to the household account when the card and PIN are used for a food purchase. The amount of the purchase is credited to the food retailer account and funds are settled each bank working day through the Automated Clearinghouse (ACH) process.

The FSP EBT regulations are being revised to require the SAS No. 70 examinations and this will add new information collection burdens for States and auditors conducting SAS No. 70 examinations of EBT service providers. The SAS No. 70 examination results in a report on the policies and procedures placed in operation by the service provider and tests of their operating effectiveness. This kind of report is commonly referred to by auditors as a SAS No. 70 type 2 report. The new burden on State agencies is recordkeeping. The new burden on auditors is the examination and report.

Respondents: State agencies with Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) systems delivering Food Stamp Program benefits and auditors of EBT transaction processing service providers.

Number of respondents: 53 State agency respondents and 10 auditors of EBT transaction processing service providers.

Estimated number of responses per respondent: 1 response per State agency to retain and provide copies of SAS No. 70 examination reports annually. 10 auditors performing 2 SAS No. 70 examinations annually.

Estimate of the burden:

10 auditors at an estimated 2,704 hours or 27,040 hours annually.

53 State agencies at an estimated 0.25 hours or 13.25 hours annually.

Estimated total annual burden on respondents: 27,053.25 hours annually. [Operating Guidelines, Forms, and Waivers]
