Analysis of Proposed Consent Order To Aid Public Comment

The Federal Trade Commission has accepted, subject to final approval, an agreement containing consent order from respondent the Quigley Corporation ("Quigley").

The proposed consent order has been placed on the public record for sixty (60) days for reception of comments by interested persons. Comments received during this period will become part of the public record. After sixty (60) days, the Commission will again review the agreement and the comments received and will decide whether it should withdraw from the agreement or make final the agreement's proposed order.

This matter involves alleged deceptive representations for Cold-Eeze Zinc Lozenges and Cold-Eeze Plus Zinc Gluconate Lozenges (hereinafter, collectively "Cold-Eeze") and Kids-Eeze Bubble Gum ("Kids-Eeze").

The Commission's proposed complaint alleges that Quigley made unsubstantiated representations that Cold-Eeze will prevent users from contracting colds and pneumonia; will treat allergies; will reduce the severity of colds in children; and that Kids-Eeze will reduce the severity of cold symptoms in children.

The proposed consent order contains provisions designed to prevent respondent from engaging in similar acts and practices in the future.

Part I of the proposed order prohibits the respondent from making the representations about Cold-Eeze and Kids-Eeze challenged in the complaint, unless it possesses and relies upon competent and reliable scientific evidence that substantiates the representation.

Part II of the proposed order prohibits respondent from making any representation that any food, drug, or dietary supplement can or will cure, treat or prevent any disease, or have any effect on the structure or function of the human body, unless it possesses and relies upon competent and reliable scientific evidence that substantiates the representation.
