Notice of Intent To Prepare an Environmental Impact Statement for the Special Resource Study on the Lincoln Highway Between New York and California

AGENCY: National Park Service, Interior.

SUMMARY: Under provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, the National Park Service (NPS) is preparing an environmental impact statement (EIS) for the special resource study (SRS) on the Lincoln Highway (Highway) between New York and California. The purpose of the study is to investigate methods to preserve the historical significance of the highway and the role it played in American popular culture, and to determine the degree and kind of federal actions (if any) necessary to achieve such preservation. The study is being prepared pursuant to Pub. L. 106-563.

To facilitate sound planning and environmental assessment, the NPS intends to gather information necessary for the preparation of the EIS, and to obtain suggestions and information from other agencies and the public on the scope of issues to be addressed in the EIS. Comments and participation in this scoping process are invited.

ADDRESSES: Written comments and information concerning preparation of the SRS/EIS or issues to be addressed in the SRS/EIS should be sent to Ruth Heikkinen, Project Leader, National Park Service, Midwest Regional Office, 1709 Jackson Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68102, ruth—heikkinen@nps.gov.

DATES: Any comments on the scope of issues to be addressed in the EIS should be received no later than February 15, 2002.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ruth Heikkinen at the address above or at telephone 402-221-7285. Direct requests to be added to the project mailing list to the same address.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The SRS/EIS will address a range of alternatives including potential roles for the NPS in preservation and interpretation of resources and stories related to the Lincoln Highway. In summary, the SRS will present findings on five topics:

(1) Determination of the national significance of the Lincoln Highway and associated resources;

(2) Determination of the suitability of the Highway and related resources to be included within the National Park System in relation to other sites of the same theme;

(3) Determination of feasibility for the NPS to own, manage, or participate in the conservation and interpretation of resources related to the Highway;

(4) Determination of the need for NPS management of any resources;

(5) Identification of alternatives for any potential role for the NPS in the future.

The EIS will assess the impacts of the alternatives for NPS participation. The responsible federal official is Mr. William Schenk, Regional Director, Midwest Region, National Park Service.

Our practice is to make comments, including names and addresses of respondents, available for public review. If you wish for us to withhold your name and/or address, you must state this prominently at the beginning of your comment. We will honor the request to the extent allowable by law. We are not required to consider anonymous comments. We will make all submissions from organizations or businesses, and from individuals identifying themselves as representatives or officials or organizations or businesses, available for public inspection in their entirety.

Dated: October 24, 2001.

Notice of Inventory Completion for Native American Human Remains and Associated Funerary Objects in the Possession of the Anchorage Museum of History and Art, Anchorage, AK, and in the Control of the U.S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, Region 7 Alaska Regional Office, Anchorage, AK

AGENCY: National Park Service, Interior.
ACTION: Notice.

Notice is hereby given in accordance with provisions of the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA), 433 CFR 10.9, of the completion of an inventory of human remains and associated funerary objects in the possession of the Anchorage Museum of History and Art, Anchorage, AK, and in the control of the U.S.
Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, Region 7 Alaska Regional Office, Anchorage, AK.

This notice is published as part of the National Park Service's administrative responsibilities under NAGPRA, 43 CFR 10.2(2). The determination within this notice are the sole responsibility of the museum, institution, or Federal agency that has control of these Native American human remains and associated funerary objects. The National Park Service is not responsible for the determinations within this notice.

A detailed assessment of the human remains was made by Anchorage Museum of History and Art and Aleutian/Prifilof Islands Association, Inc., professional staff in consultation with representatives of the Native Village of Niolski (IRA) and Chaluka Corporation for the native village of Nikolski, Umnak Island, Alaska.

In 1936 or 1938, human remains representing one individual were collected from a burial cave on Kagamil Island, AK, in what was then the Aleutian Islands Refuge, and is now the Aleutian Islands Unit of the Alaska Maritime National Wildlife Refuge, by Alan C. May, a member of an authorized Smithsonian Institution expedition to the Aleutian and Commander Islands

the direction of Dr. Ales Hrdicka.
Expedition members often made personal collections after Dr. Hrdicka selected items for the Smithsonian collections. In 1983, Mr. May donated the collection to the Anchorage Museum of History and Art. The human remains and associated funerary objects from Kagamil Island in the Anchorage Museum of History and Art are associated with a much larger collection of human remains and funerary objects from Kagamil Island saves assembled by Dr. Hrdicka during the 1936 and 1938 expeditions; this larger collection is in the control of the National Museum of Natural History, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, DC. No known individual was identified. The 126 associated funerary objects are 64 basketry fragments (some include feathers), 2 birdskin garments, 1 mukluk fragment, 1 bentwood dish, 3 wooden bowls, 2 wooden container fragments, 9 unidentified wood items (some include cordage, sinew, twine, skin, and hair), 4 stone abraders, 1 miniature yo-yo, 26 rapes, 5 lines, 2 grass bundles, 4 fur/skin strips and fur fragments, 1 set of bird wings, and 1 possible baleen item.

There are no radiocarbon dates for any of the Kagamil Island cave collections. The consensus among anthropologists, however, is that the collections date to the Late Prehistoric period, possibly no earlier than 500-1000 B.P. The Aleut practice of cave burials existed into the Protohistoric period in the Aleutian Islands but was not practiced after circa A.D. 1760, During the Russian and American periods, explorers, priest and others recorded Aleut knowledge about burial cave practices and Aleut beliefs about burial sites.

The present-day Aleut cultural affiliation with prehistoric populations is evident in the cultural continuity of artifact assemblage content and artifact form throughout the Aleutian region since the earliest occupation 8700 B.P.
Biological data indicate is situ development of Palco-Aleuts to Neo-Aleuts after the Aleut-Eskimo linguistic stock divergence some 9000 years B.P.
Glottochronological evidence indicates that the Aleut language diverged from Eskimoid languages between 4000 and 4600 B.P.

In the 1790s, the Aleut villages of the Islands of the Four Mountains, which includes Kagamil Island, and Aleut villages of western Umnak Island were at war. At the end of that conflict, the remaining villagers from the Islands of the Four Mountains were moved by the Russian skipper Sarychev to villages in western Umnak Island. During the 19th century those villages consolidated into
