

the terms and conditions, if any, of occupancy of such housing. In addition, section 201(g) requires that such information be provided in English, or as necessary and reasonable, in a language common to the workers and that the Department of Labor make forms available to provide such information. Section 500.75(f) and (g) of Regulations, 29 CFR Part 500, of MSPA, sets forth the terms of occupancy of housing which are to be posted or given in a written statement to the worker. Section 500.1(i)(2) provides for optional Form WH-521, which may be used to satisfy sections 201(c) and 201(g) of MSPA. Optional Form WH-521 is printed in English/Spanish. Form WH-521 in other languages is not available at this time. The information collection is currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for use through September 2002.

II. Review Focus

The Department of Labor is particularly interested in comments which:

- Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- Enhance the quality, utility and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submissions of responses.

III. Current Actions

The Department of Labor seeks an extension of approval of optional Form WH-521, which may be used to satisfy sections 201(c) and 201(g) of MSPA. Form WH-521 is an optional form which a farm labor contractor, agricultural employer, and agricultural association can post or present to a migrant agricultural worker listing the terms and conditions for occupancy of housing. While use of the form is optional, disclosure of the information is required by MSPA. The optional form completed by the employer provides an easy method for the employer to satisfy the disclosure requirements.

Completion of the form and disclosure also provides the migrant agricultural workers with information enabling them to understand the conditions under which they may occupy housing provided by farm labor contractors, agricultural employers or agricultural associations. There are no changes to this form since the last OMB approval.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Congress enacted the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act (LMRDA), 29 U.S.C. 401 et seq., to provide for the disclosure of information on the financial transactions and administrative practices of labor organizations. The statute also provides, under certain circumstances, for reporting by labor organization officers and employees, employers, labor relations consultants, and surety companies. In addition, the statute requires: (a) the maintenance and retention of supporting records for five years after the required reports are filed, and (b) the preservation for one year of records of elections of union officers. Section 208 of the Act authorizes the Secretary to issue rules and regulations prescribing the form of the required reports. The reporting provisions were devised to implement a basic tenet of the LMRDA: the guarantee of democratic procedures and safeguards within labor organizations that are designed to protect the basic rights of union members. The implementing regulations specifically incorporate by reference the LMRDA reporting and record retention requirements of labor organization information, annual financial, and trusteeship reports, as well as the requirement for the preservation of election records. Information supplied on the reports may be utilized by union members to help self-govern their unions, by the general public, and as research material for both outside researchers and within the Department of Labor. The information is also used to assist DOL and other government agencies in detecting improper practices on the part of labor organizations, their officers and/or representatives, and is used by Congress in oversight and legislative functions. The information collection is currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for use through November 2002. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The Wage and Hour Division (WHD) administers the Employee Polygraph Protection Act of 1988 (EPPA). The EPPA was signed into law June 27, 1988 and became effective December 27, 1988. EPPA prohibits most private employers from using any lie detector tests either for pre-employment screening or during the course of employment. Federal, State, and local government employers are exempted from the Act. The law contains several limited exemptions which authorize polygraph tests under certain conditions, including: (1) The testing of employees who are reasonably suspected of involvement in a workplace incident that results in economic loss or injury to the employer's business; (2) the testing by the Federal Government of experts, consultants, or employees of Federal contractors engaged in national security intelligence or counterintelligence functions; (3) the testing of some prospective employees of private armored car, security alarm, and security guard firms; and (4) the testing of some current and prospective employees in firms authorized to manufacture, distribute, or dispense controlled substances. Employers who violate any of the Act's provisions may be assessed civil money penalties up to $10,000. The information collection is currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) for use through October 2002.
