SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

By a submission dated May 22, 2001, the Environmental Working Group (EWG) and the Healthy Building Network (HBN) requested that the Commission enact a ban on use of chromated copper arsenate (CCA)-treated wood in playground equipment.¹ The submitters asserted that a ban is necessary because "[r]ecent research has shown that arsenic is more carcinogenic than previously recognized, that arsenic is present at significant concentrations on CCA-treated wood and in underlying soil, that the health risks posed by this wood are greater than previously recognized, and that past risk assessments were incomplete." On June 20, 2001, that request was docketed as petition HP 01-3 under the Federal Hazardous Substances Act (FHSA), 15 U.S.C. 1261-1278.

The Commission solicited public comment on the petition by Federal Register notice of July 13, 2001. 66 FR 36756. Twenty-eight comments were received by the close of the comment period on September 11, 2001. The staff also held a public meeting on August 6, 2001 with members of the American Chemistry Council (representing CCA chemical manufacturers) and the American Wood Preservers Institute. On October 3, 2001, the staff conducted a public meeting with representatives of the petitioners. The comments from the wood industry, environmental groups, trade associations, consumers, and state and local governments discussed toxicity issues, health risks from exposure to CCA-treated wood, CCA-treated wood as a possible hazardous substance under the FHSA, the levels of dislodgeable arsenic present on the wood, the bioavailability of arsenic, exposure to arsenic in soil and groundcover, disposal issues, and whether the type of wood influences arsenic leaching.

The staff has completed its analysis of the petition and the comments received and has forwarded a briefing package to the Commission. The staff recommends that the Commission defer further action on the petition pending final action by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) on the request by the registrants of the CCA pesticide to cancel registrations for most, if not all, uses that involve treating wood for consumer uses, including for use in playground equipment.

B. The Public Meeting

The purpose of the public meeting is to provide a forum for oral presentations on the CPSC staff briefing package on petition HP 01-3 and the materials that are described in the staff briefing package.

Participation in the meeting is open. See the DATES section of this notice for information on making requests to give oral presentations at the meeting and on making written submissions.

Dated: February 11, 2003.

Todd A. Stevenson,

Secretary, Consumer Product Safety Commission.
