SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background: My HealtheVet is a web-based system that provides veterans with information and tools that they can use to increase their knowledge about health conditions, increase communication with their care providers and improve their own health. Participating veterans can request on-line prescription refills, view upcoming appointments, and check their co-payment balances. Through a web-based environment, the VA will also provide a secure and private health space where veterans can enter their own medical information in a "self-entered" health information section, and request a download of copies of key portions of their official VA health record. Veterans can personalize this private environment with links to explanatory material that may help them understand their health record and how to improve their health. As My HealtheVet is refined, VA plans to offer more services to veterans, such as secure electronic messaging with their VA health care providers.

While VA is the authoritative source of veterans' VA medical records, once veterans request copies of key portions of their medical records, VA will download the copies into a secure and private health space where they are owned and maintained by the veteran.

The veteran's self-entered health information is also owned and maintained by the veteran in the My HealtheVet secure and private health space. This self-entered health information is only included in the veteran's official VA medical record upon the veteran's request and upon the VA's medical determination that it is appropriate to include it in the official medical record.

The VA does not provide access to the veteran's personal health information in My HealtheVet in medical emergency situations. However, if a non-VA health care provider requires information from VA medical records to treat a veteran patient, the non-VA health care provider should contact the VA facility where the veteran patient was last treated to obtain that information.

This new on-line environment, which is consistent with existing VA clinical practices, allows veterans to share all or part of the information in their account with other individuals, such as family members, and VA and non-VA health care providers.

VA will only release the health information in the veteran's private and secure health space when authorized to do so by the veteran user, except in very limited circumstances. These limited circumstances include in response to a court order or a subpoena signed by a judge, or in response to a written request from a law enforcement agency. Further details about the operation and maintenance of My HealtheVet are provided to qualified individuals at the time they register for the My HealtheVet program.

In order to administer the My HealtheVet program and support the provision of the above benefits to veterans, VHA is retaining administrative information, including personally identifiable information, on users and information technology (IT) administrators of My HealtheVet electronic services. This administrative information is stored in the My HealtheVet Administrative Records System, and constitutes a system of records.

I. Description of Proposed System of Records

The proposed My HealtheVet Administrative Records System contains administrative information created or collected during the course of operating My HealtheVet, and is provided by veterans and other qualified individuals, their delegates and grantees, Veterans Health Information Systems and Technology Architecture (VistA) IT systems, VA employees, contractors, and subcontractors. At this time, the My HealtheVet program is planning to maintain minimal administrative records at each local facility, while maintaining more comprehensive administrative records at a central location in the VA Austin Automation Center. The records kept locally support the local VA My HealtheVet training programs, sensitive information reviews and VA's annual reporting requirements under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) for those veterans who sign up for electronic access to copies of key portions of their health records.

The more comprehensive repository of administrative information is being housed at the Austin Automation Center (AAC). This information is used to support My HealtheVet electronic services, such as requests for prescription refill, co-payment and appointment information, entry of personal health metrics, and requests for copies of key portions of the personal health information on-line. This information may also be used for business administrative reports for system operators and VA managers to ensure that the My HealtheVet system is meeting performance expectations and being used within legal boundaries.

The information needed to support My HealtheVet program activities and electronic services includes such information as: The person's full name; My HealtheVet User ID; date of birth; e-mail address; telephone number; mother's maiden name; zip code; place and date of registration for My HealtheVet electronic record access; delegate and grantee user IDs associated with My HealtheVet users; level of access to My HealtheVet electronic services; date and type of transaction; patient integration control number (ICN); and other administrative data needed for My HealtheVet roles and services.

II. Proposed Routine Use Disclosures of Data in the System

These routine uses only apply to the My HealtheVet administrative information described in this system of records notice. These routine uses do not apply to the veteran's personal health information maintained in the private and secure health space which is not owned by VA or subject to the system of records requirements. VHA is proposing the following routine use disclosures of information to be maintained in the system:

1. Relevant information may be disclosed to individuals, organizations, private or public agencies, etc., with whom VA has a contract or agreement, including sub-contractors, to perform such services as VA may deem practical for the purposes of laws administered by VA, in order for the contractor to perform the services of the contract or agreement.

VA must be able to give contractors whatever information is necessary to fulfill their duties. In these situations, safeguards are provided in the contract prohibiting the contractor from using or disclosing the information for any purpose other than that described in the contract.

2. On its own initiative, VA may disclose information, except for the names of My HealtheVet users, to a Federal, state, local, tribal or foreign agency charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting civil, criminal or regulatory violations of law, or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto. On its own initiative, the VA may also disclose the names of My HealtheVet users to a Federal agency charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting civil, criminal or regulatory violations of law, or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto.

VA must be able to comply with the requirements of agencies charged with enforcing the law and conducting investigations. VA must also be able to provide administrative information to state or local agencies charged with protecting the public's health as set forth in state law.

3. Disclosure may be made to National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for it to perform its records management inspection responsibilities and its role as Archivist of the United States under authority of Title 44 United States Code (U.S.C.).

NARA is responsible for archiving old records no longer actively used but which may be appropriate for preservation; they are responsible in general for the physical maintenance of the Federal government's records. VA must be able to turn records over to these agencies in order to determine the proper disposition of such records.

4. Any information in this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Department of Justice or United States Attorneys in order to prosecute or defend litigation involving or pertaining to the United States, or in which the United States has an interest.

By law, the Department of Justice represents VA in all litigation and must be given record access when deemed necessary to provide appropriate representation.

5. Disclosure may be made to a Congressional office from this system of records in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of the individual who is the subject of the records.

In special cases, individuals request the help of a member of Congress in resolving issues relating to a matter before VA. The member of Congress then writes VA, and VA must be able to give sufficient information to respond to the inquiry.

III. Compatibility of the Proposed Routine Uses

The Privacy Act permits VA to disclose information about individuals without their consent for a routine use when the information, in this case administrative information, will be used for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose for which VA collected it. In all of the routine use disclosures described above, either the recipient of the administrative information will use the information in connection with the My HealtheVet program, a matter relating to one of VA's programs to provide a benefit to VA, or to meet legal requirements for disclosure.

The notice of intent to publish, and an advance copy of the system notice have been sent to the appropriate Congressional committees and to the Director of Office of Management and Budget (OMB) as required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(r) (Privacy Act) and guidelines issued by OMB (65 FR 77677), December 12, 2000.

Approved: September 20, 2004.

Anthony J. Principi,
Secretary of Veterans Affairs.
