Title: NESHAP for Stationary Combustion Turbines (Renewal). ICR Numbers: EPA ICR Number

1967.03, OMB Control Number 2060–0540.

ICR Status: This ICR is scheduled to expire on June 30, 2007. Under OMB regulations, the Agency may continue to conduct or sponsor the collection of information while this submission is pending at OMB. An Agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control numbers for EPA's regulations in title 40 of the CFR, after appearing in the Federal Register when approved, are listed in 40 CFR part 9, and displayed either by publication in the Federal Register or by other appropriate means, such as on the related collection instrument or form, if applicable. The display of OMB control numbers in certain EPA regulations is consolidated in 40 CFR part 9.

Abstract: These regulations apply to stationary combustion turbines located at major sources of hazardous air pollutants. On August 18, 2004, EPA stayed the effectiveness of two subcategories of turbines subject to these regulations: lean pre-mix gas-fired turbines and diffusion flame gas-fired turbines. Thus, only oil-fired stationary combustion turbines are currently subject to emission limits under these standards. In addition, these regulations apply only new sources that commenced construction or reconstruction after the date of the final rule. Owners or operators of oil-fired stationary combustion turbines subject to these regulations are required to submit initial notifications, conduct initial performance testing, submit periodic compliance reports, and maintain records to demonstrate continuous compliance. New gas-fired stationary combustion turbines are only required to submit an initial notification.

Burden Statement: The annual public reporting and recordkeeping burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 8 (rounded) hours per response. Burden means the total time, effort, or financial resources expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide information to or for a Federal agency. This includes the time needed to review instructions; develop, acquire, install, and utilize technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information; adjust the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements which have subsequently changed; train personnel to be able to respond to a collection of information; search data sources; complete and review the collection of information; and transmit or otherwise disclose the information.

Respondents/Affected Entities: New and Reconstructed Stationary Combustion Turbines Located at Major Sources of Hazardous Air Pollutants.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 31.

Frequency of Response: Initial and Semi-Annual.

Estimated Total Annual Hour Burden: 435.

Estimated Total Annual Cost: $40,008, includes $0 annualized Capital Startup costs, $1,500 annualized Operating and Maintenance Costs (O&M), and $38,508 annualized Labor costs.

Changes in the Estimates: There is a decrease of 2,013 hours in the total estimated burden currently identified in the OMB Inventory of Approved ICR Burdens. The decrease in burden from the most recently approved ICR is due to a change in the regulation. On August 18, 2004 (69 FR 51184), the EPA stayed the effectiveness of this standard for gas fired turbines. As a result, only new oil fired turbines located at major HAP sources are subject to emission standards under Subpart YYYY at this time. New gas fired units are only required to submit a one-time initial notification.

Dated: June 14, 2007.

Development of Clean Water Act National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System Permits for Discharges Incidental to the Normal Operation of Vessels

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Notice of intent; request for comments and information.

SUMMARY: This notice provides the public with early notification that EPA is in the process of developing National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permits under the Clean Water Act (CWA) for the discharge of pollutants incidental to the normal operation of vessels and is seeking comment and relevant information from the public on this matter. Beginning development of NPDES permitting is necessary in light of a lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California in which the Court found that an EPA regulation, which excludes certain discharges incidental to the normal operation of vessels from NPDES permitting, exceeded the Agency's statutory authority. The Court issued a final order in September 2006 that will vacate (revoke) the regulatory exclusion for discharges incidental to the normal operation of vessels effective September 30, 2008. As of that date, those discharges incidental to the normal operation of vessels previously excluded from NPDES permitting by the regulation will become prohibited unless the discharge is covered under an NPDES permit. The decision potentially implicates all vessels, both commercial and recreational, that have discharges incidental to their normal operation (e.g., deck runoff, graywater, etc). Although the Government is appealing this decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, we believe it is prudent to initiate responsive action now rather than await the outcome of that appeal. Accordingly, today's notice is being issued to make the public aware of this matter and obtain their input, in the form of public comment or relevant information, to further help the Agency in the timely development of an NPDES permitting framework, which has not existed to date for discharges incidental to the normal operation of vessels.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before August 6, 2007.
