Background

A. Recovery Act: Competitive Grants for Worker Training and Placement in High Growth and Emerging Industry Sectors

On February 17, 2009, President Barack Obama signed into law the Recovery Act, through which Congress intended to preserve and create jobs, promote the nation's economic recovery, and assist those most impacted by the recession. Among other funding directed toward the Department, the Recovery Act provides $750 million for a program of competitive grants for worker training and placement in high growth and emerging industries. Of the $750 million allotted for competitive grants, the Recovery Act designates $500 million for projects that prepare workers for careers in the energy efficiency and renewable energy industries described in Section 171(e)(1)(B) of the Workforce Investment Act (WIA). The Recovery Act further provided that in awarding grants for the remaining $250 million, projects that prepare workers for careers in the health care sector would receive priority. DOL intends to use a portion of the $250 million for providing technical assistance for this program of grants. DOL also intends to use a portion of these resources to promote the creation of a virtual tool that helps workers learn about and prepare for careers in health care. These efforts will help participants find and retain employment, while leveraging other Recovery Act investments intended to create jobs and promote economic growth.

The following sub-sections provide background information on the health care sector, as well as on the other sectors on which applicants could focus.
