SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The Codex Alimentarius (Codex) was established in 1963 by two United Nations organizations, the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and the World Health Organization (WHO). Through adoption of food standards, codes of practice, and other guidelines developed by its committees, and by promoting their adoption and implementation by governments, Codex seeks to protect the health of consumers and ensure that fair practices are used in trade.

The CCFA was established to set or endorse maximum levels for individual food additives; prepare priority lists of food additives for risk assessment by the Joint FAO and WHO Expert Committee on Food Additives (JECFA); assign functional classes to individual food additives; recommend specifications of identity and purity for food additives for adoption by the Commission; consider methods of analysis for the determination of additives in food; and consider and elaborate standards or codes for related subjects such as the labeling of food additives when sold as such. The Committee is hosted by the People's Republic of China.

Issues To Be Discussed at the Public Meeting

The following items on the agenda for the 41st Session of the CCFA will be discussed during the public meeting:

- Matters Referred to the Committee from the Codex Alimentarius Commission and other Codex Bodies;

- Endorsement or Revision of Maximum Levels for Food Additives and Processing Aids in Codex Standards;
- Consideration of the Codex General Standard for Food Additives (GSFA);

- Discussion Paper on the Identification of Problems and

Recommendations Related to Inconsistent Presentation of Food Additive Provisions in Codex Commodity Standards;

- Discussion Paper on Inconsistencies in the Names of Compounds in the Codex Specifications for Identity and Purity of Food Additives and in the International Numbering System for Food Additives;

- Proposed Draft Guidelines and Principles for Substances Used as Processing Aids;

- International Numbering System (INS) for Food Additives;

- Specifications for the Identity and Purity of Food Additives; and

- Priority List of Food Additives Proposed for Evaluation by the JECFA

Each item listed above will be fully described in documents distributed, or to be distributed, by the Codex Secretariat prior to the March 16–20, 2009, meeting in Shanghai, China. Members of the public may access copies of these documents from <http://www.codexalimentarius.net/current.asp>.
