SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On February 27, 2006, the Department of Transportation (DOT or Department) issued a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) that proposed to amend the Department's Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) rule and related regulations (71 FR 9761). The proposed amendments concerned a variety of subjects, including integrated access for persons with disabilities to trains serving new or altered intercity and commuter rail station platforms and reasonable modifications to transit provider policies and practices. The NPRM also sought comment on several upcoming issues of interest concerning surface transportation accessibility. The extended comment period for this rulemaking ended June 16, 2006.

The Department is continuing to work towards a final rule based on this NPRM.

Recently, the Department received a request from the American Public Transit Association (APTA), one of the commenters on the NPRM, for a meeting concerning the portion of the rulemaking relating to reasonable modification. In light of the period of time that has elapsed since the original comment period and of a meeting held between representatives of disability community organizations and Federal Railroad Administration officials concerning the rail system accessibility portion of the rulemaking (a memorandum on the meeting has been placed in the docket), the Department has decided to grant APTA's request.

Consequently, the Department will hold a public meeting from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. on August 20, 2010, in the Department's conference center in its headquarters building at 1200 New Jersey Avenue, SE., Washington DC. Not only APTA, but also any other party wanting to discuss issues raised in the NPRM with Department of Transportation officials and staff, is invited to attend. A memorandum concerning the discussion at the meeting will be placed in the docket. To enable participants in the meeting or others to have responses to comments made at the meeting, or other comments they may wish to make, entered into the docket, we will briefly reopen the docket from August 19-25, 2010.

To facilitate the Department's administration of the meeting, we request that individuals planning to attend the meeting or call in to the meeting please contact the Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Regulation and Enforcement to indicate their interest. You may call 202-366-4723 for this purpose or e-mail laura.reeves@dot.gov. We thank participants for cooperation with this request.

Dated: Issued in Washington, DC this 27th day of July 2010.

Robert S. Rivkin,
General Counsel.
