DOE reviewed today's direct final rule and corresponding NOPR pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act and the procedures and policies published on February 19, 2003. 68 FR 7990. Set forth below is DOE's initial regulatory flexibility analysis for the standards proposed in the NOPR, published elsewhere in today's Federal Register. DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

12 CFR Chapter I

[Docket ID OCC-2011-0017]

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

12 CFR Chapter III

RIN 3064-ZA01

List of Office of Thrift Supervision Regulations to be Enforced by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act

AGENCY: Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Treasury (OCC); Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

ACTION: Joint notice.

SUMMARY: The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Act), transfers to the OCC the functions of the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) relating to Federal savings associations and also transfers to the OCC rulemaking authority of the OTS and the Director of the OTS, respectively, relating to all savings associations. Functions of the OTS relating to State savings associations are transferred to the FDIC. Section 316(c) of the Act requires the OCC and the FDIC, after consultation with one another, to identify those regulations of the OTS that are continued under Section 316(b) of the Act that the OCC, with respect to Federal savings associations, and the FDIC, with respect to State savings associations, will enforce, and to publish a list of those regulations in the Federal Register. This joint notice sets out the required lists of both the OCC and the FDIC.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

OCC: Andra Shuster, Senior Counsel, Heidi Thomas, Special Counsel, or Mary Gottlieb, Regulatory Specialist, Legislative and Regulatory Activities Division, (202) 874-5090, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, 250 E Street, SW., Washington, DC 20219.

FDIC: Ann Johnson Taylor, Counsel, (202) 898-3573; Rodney D. Ray, Counsel, (202) 898-3556; or Martin P. Thompson, Senior Review Examiner, (202) 898-6767, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17 St. NW., Washington, DC 20429.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Act, signed into law on July 21, 2010,¹ transfers all functions of the OTS and the Director as well as all of the powers, authorities, rights, and duties vested in the OTS and the Director of the OTS relating to the transferred functions to the OCC, FDIC and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the Board). All functions, powers, authorities, rights, and duties relating to Federal savings associations are transferred to the OCC and the Comptroller of the Currency; all functions, powers, authorities, rights, and duties relating to State savings associations are transferred to the FDIC; and all functions, powers, authorities, rights, and duties relating to the supervision of savings and loan holding companies (SLHCs) and any subsidiaries of such SLHCs other than depository institutions are transferred to the Board. The Act transfers rulemaking authority of the OTS and the Director of the OTS relating to savings associations to the OCC and the Comptroller of the Currency, and transfers rulemaking authority of the OTS and the Director of the OTS relating to SLHCs to the Board.² The transfer of OTS functions will take place on July 21, 2011. The Act abolishes the OTS 90 days after the transfer date.

Section 316(b) of the Act provides for the continuation of OTS regulations and enforcement of such regulations that have been issued in performance of the functions transferred by Title III of the Act. Section 316(c) of the Act requires the OCC and FDIC, after consultation with each other, to identify those regulations of the OTS that are continued under Section 316(b) of the Act that will be enforced by each agency and publish a list of those regulations in the Federal Register.³ This list must be published no later than the transfer date.

This joint notice sets out both the OCC's and the FDIC's lists of OTS regulations that each agency will enforce beginning on the transfer date: The OCC, with respect to Federal savings associations; and the FDIC, with respect to State savings associations.⁴ This joint notice is not intended to have any substantive effect on the regulations at issue; rather it provides a reference for Federal savings associations that will be regulated and supervised by the OCC beginning on the transfer date and for State savings associations that will be regulated and supervised by the FDIC beginning on the transfer date.⁵ Separately, the OCC also plans to issue an interim final rule with a request for comment, effective on the transfer date, that republishes those OTS regulations the OCC will enforce as of the transfer date. These regulations will be added to Chapter I of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations and renumbered accordingly as OCC rules, with nomenclature and other technical amendments to reflect OCC supervision. The OCC will consider more comprehensive substantive amendments to former OTS regulations, as ² Section 312(c) of the Act designated the FDIC as the "appropriate Federal banking agency" for State savings associations. Under those statutes (and others using similar terminology) for which the "appropriate Federal banking agency" is authorized to issue regulations, the FDIC will issue regulations for State savings associations.

appropriate, with the opportunity for public comment, after the transfer date.⁶

On June 14, 2011, the FDIC's Board of Directors approved an interim rule with request for comment to revise a number of existing FDIC administrative and procedural rules to reflect the FDIC's supervision of State savings associations and to make other clarifying amendments to those rules.⁷ This interim rule, which was published in the Federal Register on June 21, 2011, will be effective on the transfer date.

The FDIC plans to issue a second interim rule with a request for comment, also effective on the transfer date, which will republish certain OTS rules for which the FDIC has rulemaking authority. These regulations will be renumbered and added to Chapter III of Title 12 of the Code of Federal Regulations with nomenclature and other technical amendments. After the transfer date, and with the opportunity for public comment, the FDIC will consider incorporating these rules into its existing rules, amending them in a more substantive manner, or rescinding them, as appropriate.

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), Department of Transportation (DOT).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: We are adopting a new airworthiness directive (AD) for the products listed above. This AD results from mandatory continuing airworthiness information (MCAI) originated by an aviation authority of another country to identify and correct an unsafe condition on an aviation product. The MCAI describes the unsafe condition as:

An operator of an A300-600 aeroplane reported finding a cracked pylon fuel drain pipe on engine #1. * * *

* * * The pipe drains the double wall of the wing-to-eylon junction in the event of fuel leakage.

After investigation, it was concluded that the damage of the pylon fuel drain pipe had been caused by chafing of the pipe against over-length screws that had been installed in accordance with the Illustrated Parts Catalogue (IPC) during a maintenance phase of the Lower Aft Pylon Fairing (LAPF).

This condition, if not detected and corrected, could, in combination with fuel leakage in the pylon, lead to an accumulation of fuel in the lowest point of the LAPF. As high temperatures are present within the
