

businesses and trade, and promote increased reliance on international standards.

- Safety, compliance and enforcement could be compromised if the regulations become too unwieldy because government would be required to write its own standards, or if a regulated entity does not have access to free standards.

- Transparency in government requires that citizens have access to the laws that govern and affect them.

- Meeting Section 508 requirements that govern the accessibility of government documents for people with disabilities is also a consideration.

PHMSA and stakeholders must continue to strive to reach a reasonable and feasible solution. Consequently, PHMSA will hold a public workshop to provide an open forum for exchanging information on the challenges associated with implementing the requirement of Section 24. Specifically, this public workshop will facilitate a discussion among stakeholders to share their respective recommendations related to the following objectives:

1. Provide an overview to the public, regulated entities, other Federal and state regulatory agencies, legislators in Congress, advocacy groups, public safety professionals, the international community and the standards developing organizations about the legal, practical, financial and policy considerations involved with implementing Section 24.

2. Identify constraints, related costs and issues with implementing Section 24 by January 2013.

3. Collect public input that will help guide PHMSA and DOT to a reasonable, efficient, and sound implementation strategy and plan.

Preliminary Agenda for the Public Workshop

- Event Objectives/Summary of Ongoing Activities.

- Panel 1—What is IBR? (Overview of the NTTAA, OMB Circular A119, Section 24 of the Pipeline Safety, Regulatory Certainty, and Job Creation Act of 2011, and Current Issues Related to Implementing Section 24).

- Panel 2—Overview of PHMSA's IBR Usage and Its Impact on Safety and Costs.

- Panel 3—Facilitated Discussion Among Participants.

Please note that there are objectives for each panel and that they are posted on the meeting Web site at <http://phmsa.dot.gov>.
