SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

On July 21, 2010, President Obama signed the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (“Dodd-Frank Act”),¹ which extensively revises the Commodity Exchange Act.² In order to more effectively implement its provisions, the Commission has reorganized its operating divisions. Under the reorganized structure, the Division of Clearing and Intermediary Oversight has been reconfigured into two new divisions: the Division of Swap Dealer and Intermediary Oversight and the Division of Clearing and Risk.

The Commission is amending its regulations to reflect this reorganized structure. Accordingly, as indicated in the chart below, the Commission is deleting references to the former division and replacing them with references to the new divisions in the Commission’s regulations. As amended, the regulations will reflect new assignments of responsibilities, including delegated authorities, to the new divisions.

II. Related Matters

A. Administrative Procedure Act

The amendments to the Commission’s regulations in this rulemaking do not establish any new substantive or legislative rules, but rather relate solely to the restructuring of responsibilities within the Commission, including amendments re-delegating authority to newly formed divisions, and therefore relate solely to agency organization, procedure, and practice. Therefore, this rulemaking is excepted from the public rulemaking provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act.³ Additionally, as the revisions to the Commission’s regulations in this rulemaking will not cause any party to undertake efforts to comply with the regulations as revised, the Commission has determined to make this rulemaking effective upon publication in the Federal Register.⁴

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act requires the Commission to consider whether the regulations it adopts will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.⁵ The Commission is obligated to conduct a regulatory flexibility analysis for any rule for which the agency publishes a general notice of proposed rulemaking pursuant to section 553(b) of the Administrative Procedure Act.⁶ This rulemaking is excepted from the public rulemaking provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act. Accordingly, the Commission is not obligated to conduct a regulatory flexibility analysis for this rulemaking.

C. Paperwork Reduction Act

The Commission may not conduct or sponsor, and a respondent is not required to respond to, a collection of information contained in a rulemaking unless the information collection displays a currently valid control number issued by the Office of Management and Budget (“OMB”) pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act.⁷ This rulemaking contains no collection of information for which the Commission is obligated to obtain a control number from OMB.
