Electronic copies of the proposed new standard is available through <http://www.regulations.gov> by accessing Docket No. NRCS–2015–0001.

Alternatively, a copy can be downloaded or printed from the following Web site: <http://go.usa.gov/TXye>. Requests for a paper version or inquiries may be directed to Emil Horvath, National Practice Standards Review Coordinator, Natural Resources Conservation Service, Central National Technology Support Center, 501 West Felix Street, Fort Worth, Texas 76115.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: To fully understand the new conservation practice standard, individuals are encouraged to acquire the document from one of the means listed. To aid in this understanding, following are some highlights of the proposed new standard: High Tunnel System (Code 325)—This is a new National Conservation Practice Standard with a 5 year lifespan. Prior to this new National Conservation Practice Standard, there existed an Interim Conservation Practice Standard, “Seasonal High Tunnel” (Code 798), that has been utilized extensively by a number of States since 2010. Because the Interim Conservation Practice Standard has been used so widely (10 thousand structures with financial assistance amounting to about $20 million), States recommended conversion of this interim standard to a new National Conservation Practice Standard. “High Tunnel System” (Code

325) applies to “kits” that can be purchased from a number of suppliers. Improving plant health and vigor has been identified as the purpose of this standard. The conservation practice describes “an enclosed polyethylene, plastic, or fabric covered structure used to cover and protect crops from sun, wind, excessive rainfall, or cold to extend the growing season in an environmentally safe manner.”

Signed this 26th day of January, 2015, in Washington, DC.

Jason A. Weller,

Chief, Natural Resources Conservation Service.

Rural Business-Cooperative Service

Notice of a National Public Stakeholder Forum on the Rural Energy for America Program

AGENCY: Rural Business-Cooperative Service, USDA.

ACTION: Notice of public meeting.

SUMMARY: The Rural Business-Cooperative Service (RBS), an Agency within the USDA Rural Development Mission area, will hold an informational meeting, entitled “Rural Energy for America Program (REAP) National Stakeholder Forum,” associated with the recently published REAP rule and notice. The Stakeholder forum is open to the public, and participation can be in person or via webinar.

DATES: The Stakeholder Forum will be held on February 6, 2015, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. EDT. There will be two sessions with a short break in between. Session one will focus on the program changes to the grant and guaranteed loan components of REAP as a result of the recently published REAP rule and enactment of the 2014 Farm Bill. Session two will include a panel of guests who will discuss opportunities and successes within REAP. A question and answer session will follow the panel discussion.

For those wishing to attend in person, seating will be available on a first come first serve basis. You must register, as described in the Instructions for Attending the Meeting in Person section, by noon EDT February 4, 2015.

ADDRESSES: The Stakeholder Forum will take place in room 107–A of the Whitten Building on Jefferson Drive SW., located between 12th and 14th Streets SW., in Washington, DC 20250. For webinar participation, you must register for the webinar at <https://www.webcaster4.com/Webcast/Page/694/7209> prior to or during the webinar.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Venus Welch-White, Rural Business-Cooperative Service, Room 6870, 1400 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20250–3221, Telephone: (202) 720–0400. Email: venus.welchwhite@wdc.usda.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The REAP final rule and accompanying notice were published in the Federal Register on December 29, 2014 (<http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/FR-2014-12-29> (December 29, 2014, page 78029)). In order to familiarize the public with the changes to the REAP rule, representatives of the Department of Agriculture are conducting a National Stakeholder Forum.

The purpose of this forum is to provide information on the final rule for the Rural Energy for America Program, focusing on the changes associated with application submittal, scoring, funding, and other program information. Participants will be afforded the opportunity to ask questions on the material in the presentation through the webinar software.

Date: February 6, 2015.

Time: 1 p.m.–3 p.m.

Location information: USDA headquarters, in the Whitten Building, 1400 Jefferson Drive SW., Room 107–A, Washington, DC 20250.

Webinar registration information can be found at <https://www.webcaster4.com/Webcast/Page/694/7209>. Participants are responsible for ensuring their systems are compatible with the webinar software.

Instructions for Attending the Meeting In Person: Space for attendance at the meeting is limited. Due to USDA headquarters security and space requirements, all persons wishing to attend the public meeting in person, must send an email to energydivision@wdc.usda.gov by noon EDT February 4, 2015, to register the names of those planning to attend. Registrations will be accepted until maximum room capacity is reached. To register, provide the following information:

- First Name
- Last Name
