

to Paragraph S4.4.2(b) of FMVSS No. 110 and paragraph S5.2(b) of FMVSS No. 120, the rim size designation must be marked on the rims to allow for the direct determination of the proper rim size for the vehicle.

NHTSA considers both the Ram 2500 and 3500 trucks to be light duty work trucks that are primarily used by operators experienced with and knowledgeable of their vehicles. It is highly likely that these individuals will readily be able to determine the correct rim sizing if necessary.

Therefore, although the rim size was omitted from the certification labels, the information needed to ensure that the vehicles are equipped with the proper rims and compatible tires is readily available to potential users.

NHTSA Decision: In consideration of the foregoing, NHTSA finds that Chrysler has met its burden of persuasion that the FMVSS No. 110 and FMVSS No. 120 noncompliances are inconsequential to motor vehicle safety.

Accordingly, Chrysler's petition is hereby moot in part and granted in part and Chrysler is exempted from the obligation of providing notification of, and a free remedy for, that noncompliance under 49 U.S.C. 30118 and 30120.

NHTSA notes that the statutory provisions (49 U.S.C. 30118(d) and 30120(h)) that permit manufacturers to file petitions for a determination of inconsequentiality allow NHTSA to exempt manufacturers only from the duties found in sections 30118 and 30120, respectively, to notify owners, purchasers, and dealers of a defect or noncompliance and to remedy the defect or noncompliance. Therefore, any decision on this petition only applies to the subject vehicles that Chrysler no longer controlled at the time it determined that the noncompliance existed. However, the granting of this petition does not relieve Chrysler distributors and dealers of the prohibitions on the sale, offer for sale, or introduction or delivery for introduction into interstate commerce of the noncompliant vehicles under their control after Chrysler notified them that the subject noncompliance existed.

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 30118, 30120; delegations of authority at 49 CFR 1.95 and 501.8.
