

Determination of Industry Support for the Petition

Section 732(c)(4)(A) of the Act requires the Department to determine, prior to the initiation of an investigation, that a minimum percentage of the domestic industry supports an antidumping petition. A petition meets these minimum requirements if the domestic producers or workers who support the petition account for (1) at least 25 percent of the total production of the domestic like product; and (2) more than 50 percent of the production of the domestic like product produced by that portion of the industry expressing support for, or opposition to, the petition.

The petitioner is the only known U.S. producer of persulfates. Accordingly, the Department determines that the petition is supported by the domestic industry.

Scope of Investigation

The products covered by this petition are persulfates, including ammonium, potassium, and sodium persulfates. The chemical formulae for these persulfates are, respectively, $(\text{NH}_4)_2\text{S}_2\text{O}_8$, $\text{K}_2\text{S}_2\text{O}_8$, and $\text{Na}_2\text{S}_2\text{O}_8$. Ammonium and potassium persulfates are currently classified under subheading 2833.40.60 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States ("HTSUS"). Sodium persulfate is classified under HTSUS subheading 2833.40.20. Although the HTSUS subheadings are provided for convenience and customs purposes, our written description of the scope of this investigation is dispositive.

Export Price

The petitioner based export prices for ammonium, potassium, and sodium persulfates on price quotes obtained from U.S. importers. Petitioner reduced these prices to account for estimated importer mark-ups, and for U.S. duties and customs fees, ocean freight, insurance, foreign inland freight and foreign handling fees.

Normal Value

In previous investigations, the Department has determined that the PRC is a nonmarket economy ("NME") country within the meaning of section 771(18) of the Act. See, e.g., Final Determination of Sales at Less Than Fair Value: Manganese Metal from the People's Republic of China (60 FR 56045, 56047 (November 6, 1995)). In accordance with section 771(18)(C), the presumption of NME status for the PRC shall continue for purposes of the initiation of this investigation. In the course of this investigation, all parties will have the opportunity to provide relevant information related to the NME status of the PRC and the assignment of separate rates to individual exporters. (See, e.g., Final Determination of Sales at Less Than Fair Value: Silicon Carbide from the PRC (59 FR 22585 (May 2, 1994))).

In antidumping investigations in which the comparison market is not a market economy, section 773(c) of the Act requires that the normal value of the foreign like product be based on the producer's factors of production valued in a surrogate market economy country or countries that is/are a significant producer of comparable merchandise and at a level of economic development comparable to the NME country. Publicly available published information from India was used by the petitioner to value the factors of production because India is the only persulfate producer among surrogate countries that the Department typically uses for the PRC. The petitioner based the fixed factory overhead, selling, general and administrative, and profit elements of its normal value calculation on data from an annual report of an Indian producer of hydrogen peroxide. According to the petitioner, it relied on data from a producer of hydrogen peroxide because public financial data for Indian persulfate producers was not available, and the production processes for hydrogen peroxide and persulfates are comparable.

The petitioner based the quantities of factors (i.e., raw materials, labor, and energy) used in production of ammonium, potassium, and sodium persulfates on the experience of certain PRC producers. The petitioner relied on its own production experience where PRC usage factors were not available. See, Initiation of Antidumping Duty Investigation: Certain Brake Drums and Certain Brake Rotors from the People's Republic of China (61 FR 14740 (April 3, 1996)). The petitioner maintains that it is reasonable to use its own production experience because the production process is the same whether the persulfates are produced in the United States or in the PRC.

Based on comparisons of the export prices with normal values constructed from factors of production, the calculated dumping margins range from 15.87 percent to 182.37 percent. If it becomes necessary at a later date to consider the petition as a source for facts available, we may re-examine the information in the petition and, if necessary, revise the margin calculations therein.

Normal Value Comparisons

Based on the data provided by the petitioner, there is reason to believe that imports of persulfates from the PRC are being, or are likely to be, sold at less than fair value.

Initiation of Investigation

We have examined the petition on persulfates from the PRC and have found that it meets the requirements of section 732 of the Act, including the requirements concerning allegations of material injury or threat of material injury to the domestic producers of domestic like products by reason of the complained-of imports, allegedly sold at less than fair value. Therefore, we are initiating an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether imports of persulfates from the PRC are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. Unless the investigation is extended, we will make our preliminary determination by December 18, 1996.

Distribution of Copies of the Petition

In accordance with section 732(b)(3)(A) of the Act, a copy of the public version of the petition has been provided to the representatives of the Government of the PRC.

International Trade Commission ("ITC") Notification

We have notified the ITC of our initiation, as required by section 732(d) of the Act.

Preliminary Determination by the ITC

The ITC will determine by August 26, 1996, whether there is a reasonable indication that imports of persulfates from the PRC are causing material injury, or threatening to cause material injury, to a U.S. industry. A negative ITC determination in this investigation will result in the investigation being terminated; otherwise, the investigation will proceed according to statutory and regulatory time limits.
