POLICY JUSTIFICATIONTurkey - Logistics Support for F-16 Aircraft

The Government of Turkey has requested the purchase of logistics support for the F-16 aircraft to include participation in the Technical Coordinating Group and International Engine Management Program, spare and repair parts, repair and overhaul of aircraft components and assemblies, maintenance of system software and related services, precision measurement equipment, publications/drawings/technical documentation, aircraft modification kits with installation documentation, special test sets and support equipment, U.S. Government and contractor technical and logistics services and other related elements of program support. The estimated cost is $125 million.

This sale will contribute to the foreign policy and national security objectives of the United States by helping to maintain the military capabilities of Turkey while enhancing weapon system standardization and interoperability.

Turkey needs this logistics support to sustain the operational readiness of its F-16 aircraft previously purchased from the U.S. Government. This logistics program will be provided in accordance with and subject to the limitations on use and transfer of the Arms Export Control Act, as embodied in the terms of sale. This sale will not adversely affect either the military balance in the region or U.S. efforts to encourage a negotiated settlement of the Cyprus question. Turkey will have no difficulty absorbing this logistics support into its armed forces.

The principal contractors involved in this program will be Lockheed Martin Tactical Aircraft Systems, Fort Worth, Texas; General Electric Company Aircraft Engine Group, Evendale, Ohio; Litton Guidance and Control Systems Division, Salt Lake City, Utah and Westinghouse Electronics Systems Group, Baltimore, Maryland. There are no offset agreements proposed to be entered into in connection with this potential sale.

Implementation of this sale will not require the assignment of any U.S. Government personnel to Turkey; however, there may be up to 10 contractor technical services personnel supporting this program in-country for a period of up to one year.

There will be no adverse impact on U.S. defense readiness as a result of this sale.

Certification Under Section 620C(d) Of The Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, As Amended

Pursuant to Section 620C(d) of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended (the Act), Executive Order 12163 (sec. 1-201(a)(11)) and State Department Delegation of Authority No. 145 (sec. 1(a)), I hereby certify that the furnishing to Turkey of technical and logistics support for the F-16 aircraft to include participation in the Technical Coordinating Group and the International Engine Management Program, spare and repair parts, repair and overhaul of aircraft components and assemblies, maintenance of system software and related services, precision measurement equipment, publications/drawings/technical documentation, aircraft modification kits with installation instructions, special test sets and support equipment, USG and contractor technical and logistics services and other related elements of program support, at an estimated cost of $125 million, is consistent with the principles contained in Section 620C(b) of the Act.

This certification will be made part of the notification to the Congress under Section 36(b) of the Arms Export Control Act regarding the proposed sale of the above-named articles and services, and is based on the justification accompanying said notification, of which said justification constitutes a full explanation.
