International Trade Administration

[A-583-009]

Color Television Receivers, Except for Video Monitors, From Taiwan; Amended Final Results of Antidumping Duty Administrative Review Pursuant to Court Remand

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of amendment to final results of antidumping duty administrative review pursuant to Court remand.

SUMMARY: On September 19, 1996, in the case of Zenith Electronics Corporation v. United States, AOC International, Inc. et al., Consolidated Court No. 87 F.3d 426 (Fed. Cir. 1996) (Zenith), the United States Court of International Trade (CIT) affirmed the Department of Commerce's (the Department) results of redetermination on remand demand September 3, 1996.

On February 12, 1996, the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (CAFC) upheld the Department's methodology for determining direct and indirect warranty expenses for purposes of making a circumstance-of-sale (COS) adjustment in calculating AOC International Inc.'s (AOC) final margin for the first administrative review of color television receivers, except for video monitors, from Taiwan, for the period October 19, 1983 through March 31, 1985 (see Color Television Receivers, Except for Video Monitors, from Taiwan; Final Results of Antidumping Duty Administrative Review, (CTVs from Taiwan) 51 FR 46895 (1986)). Subsequently, the CAFC remanded the case to the CIT for recalculation of dumping margins in a manner consistent with the CAFC's affirmation in Zenith of the Department's definition of "direct" as those expenses that vary with the quantity sold and "indirect" as those expenses that do not vary with the quantity sold. This CAFC decision reversed the CIT's first remand of September 11, 1989, wherein it ordered the Department to make reasonable allowances for differences between warranty expenses in the U.S. and home markets. In accordance with that order, which was subsequently reversed by the February 12, 1996 CAFC decision, the Department treated all home market warranty expenses as direct expenses.

On July 18, 1996, the CIT remanded the case to the Department to recalculate AOC's dumping margin in accordance with the CAFC's February 12, 1996 ruling in Zenith. In response to the CIT's remand, the Department recalculated AOC's dumping margin in accordance with Zenith and filed the remand determination with the CIT on September 3, 1996. The CIT subsequently affirmed the remand determination on September 19, 1996.

These amended final results for AOC and the subsequent liquidation instructions to the U.S. Customs Service (Customs Service) mark the conclusion of the first administrative review of CTVs from Taiwan.

EFFECTIVE DATE: November 7, 1996.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On December 29, 1986, the Department published in the Federal Register the final results of the first administrative review of the antidumping duty order on CTVs from Taiwan (51 FR 46895) for the period of review (POR) October 19, 1983 through March 31, 1985, and announced its intent to instruct the Customs Service to assess antidumping duties on all appropriate entries.

Subsequent to the Department's final results, four of the reviewed companies and a domestic producer, Zenith, filed lawsuits with the CIT challenging these results. Thereafter, on September 11, 1989, the CIT issued an order and opinion remanding the Department's determination so that the Department could, among other issues, make reasonable allowances for "bona fide differences in warranty expenses between the United States and the home market." On January 31, 1991, the Department filed its first remand results
