[TA-W-32,252; TA-W-32,252A, and TA-W-32,252B]Penn Virginia Oil and Gas Corporation Located in Tennessee, West Virginia, and Kentucky; Notice of Negative Determination on Reconsideration on Remand

The United States Court of International Trade (USCIT) granted the Secretary of Labor's motion for a voluntary remand for further investigation in Former Employees of Penn Virginia Oil & Gas Corp. v. Reich, No. (86-06-01612).

The Department's initial denial for the workers of Penn Virginia Oil and Gas Corporation, Kingsport, Tennessee, and the states of West Virginia and Kentucky, issued on May 17, 1996, and published in the Federal Register on June 6, 1996, (61 FR 28,900), was based on the fact that sales and production increased in the relevant period, and on the fact that layoffs at the subject firm are attributable to a corporate decision to consolidate its operation, subcontracting the production of the subject firm to another domestic oil and gas producer.

The workers at Penn Virginia Oil and Gas Corporation, Kingsport, Tennessee, and the states of West Virginia and Kentucky, are engaged in employment related to the production of crude oil and natural gas.

Former workers of the subject firm contend that the determination was based on what the company said rather than the actual sales and production figures. Also, petitioner submitted reports from the GRI Baseline Projection of U.S. Energy Supply and Demand and from the Department of Energy projecting increased imports of gas. In addition, it was pointed out that a neighboring oil and gas firm, Equitable Resources Exploration Company, was certified at approximately the same time as the subject firm's layoff.

Findings on remand with regard to the subject firm's sales and production show that the dollar value of natural gas sales increased in 1995 compared with 1994, and also increased in the first three months of 1996 compared with the same period of 1995. Production of natural gas, measured in quantity (Bcf), also increased in both of the above sets of time periods. Crude oil sales accounted for approximately 6.1 percent of the subject firm's combined oil and gas sales revenue in 1995. Sales and production figures for crude oil were deemed to be insufficiently large to be considered in determining import impact.

Other findings on remand show that dry natural gas imports into the United States are relatively low, not exceeding 15 percent of total shipments in the last three years. U.S. imports of dry natural gas declined as a percent of total U.S. shipments in January to May, 1996, compared with the same period of 1995. Projections of future aggregate imports, such as those of the GRI Baseline Projection of U.S. Energy Supply and Demand, cannot be used in determining import impact under the Trade Act of 1974.

With regard to the certification of workers at Equitable Resources Energy Company (TA-W-32,251), the record shows that that certification was based on Equitable Resources' increasing corporate imports of natural gas in the relevant time period. Penn Virginia Oil and Gas Corporation did not import crude oil or natural gas.

Conclusion

After reconsideration on remand, I affirm the original notice of negative determination of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance for workers and former workers of Penn Virginia Oil and Gas Corporation, Kingsport, Tennessee, and the states of West Virginia and Kentucky.

BILLING CODE 4510-30-M

NATIONAL ARCHIVES AND RECORDS ADMINISTRATION

Records Schedules; Availability and Request for Comments

AGENCY: National Archives and Records Administration, Office of Records Administration.

ACTION: Notice of availability of proposed records schedules; request for comments.

SUMMARY: The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) publishes notice at least once monthly of certain Federal agency requests for records disposition authority (records schedules). Records schedules identify records of sufficient value to warrant preservation in the National Archives of the United States. Schedules also authorize agencies after a specified period to dispose of records lacking administrative, legal, research, or other value. Notice is published for records schedules that (1) propose the destruction of records not previously authorized for disposal, or (2) reduce the retention period for records already authorized for disposal. NARA invites public comment on such schedules, as required by 44 U.S.C. 3303a(a).

DATES: Requests for copies must be received in writing on or before January 21, 1997. Once the appraisal of the records is completed, NARA will send a copy of the schedule. The requester will be given 30 days to submit comments.

ADDRESSES: Address requests for single copies of schedules identified in this notice to the Records Appraisal and Disposition Division (NIR), National Archives and Records Administration, College Park, MD 20740. Requesters must cite the control number assigned to each schedule when requesting a copy. The control number appears in the parentheses immediately after the name of the requesting agency.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Each year U.S. Government agencies create billions of records on paper, film, magnetic tape, and other media. In order to control this accumulation, agency records managers no longer need the records and what happens to the records after this period. Some schedules are comprehensive and cover all the records of an agency or one of its major subdivisions. These comprehensive schedules provide for the eventual transfer to the National Archives of historically valuable records and authorize the disposal of all other records. Most schedules, however, cover records of only one office or program or a few series of records, and many are updates of previously approved schedules. Such schedules also may include records that are designated for permanent retention.

Destruction of records requires the approval of the Archivist of the United States. This approval is granted after a thorough study of the records that takes into account their administrative use by the agency of origin, the rights of the Government and of private persons directly affected by the Government's activities, and historical or other value.

This public notice identifies the Federal agencies and their subdivisions requesting disposition authority, includes the control number assigned to each schedule, and briefly describes the records proposed for disposal. The records schedule contains additional information about the records and their disposition. Further information about the disposition process will be furnished to each requester.
