Sections 201, 202, 203, 204, and 205 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 201, 202, 203, 204, and 205, require that common carriers establish just and reasonable charges, practices, and regulations for the services they provide, and prohibit any unjust or unreasonable discrimination, preference, or advantage. The LEC schedules containing these charges, practices, and regulations must be filed with the Commission. The tariff filings required by the Reconsideration Order are necessary to ensure the effectiveness of the fresh look opportunity that the Commission adopted in order to allow eligible customers to assess the new alternatives available in a more competitive market. The tariff filings that will be needed to comply with the Commission's rules on nonrecurring charges and connection charges are necessary to ensure that the rates charged to all LEC customers are just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory. Without this information, the FCC would be unable to determine whether the tariffs for these services are just, reasonable, nondiscriminatory, and otherwise in accordance with the law and its rules. Obligation to respond is mandatory.

Public reporting burden for the collections of information is as noted above. Send comments regarding the burden estimate or any other aspect of the collections of information, including suggestions for reducing the burden to Performance Evaluation and Records Management, Washington, D.C. 20554.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In 1996, the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (ATSDR), an operating division of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, launched a Child Health Initiative. A Child Health Workgroup was appointed by ATSDR's external Board of Scientific Counselors. Members of the workgroup were selected for their knowledge of children's environmental health. The workgroup assessed ATSDR's activities as they pertain to individuals during prenatal life, infancy, children, and adolescence. The workgroup reviewed the four divisions of ATSDR separately. This effort included the review of published goals and objectives for each division, recent annual reports, and many other publications from each division. For each division, a meeting was held between members of the workgroup and the leadership of the division.

The workgroup members determined that, although key information gaps could be identified, the most important activity was to offer a critique of current processes and suggestions for change that would improve the quality of the data, the pediatric impact of prevention, and the future benefit of the ATSDR's activities for the children being served. The availability of draft report for public comment was announced in the Federal Register on June 17, 1997 (62 FR 32812). The availability of the final report documenting this effort, Healthy Children-Toxic Environments, is being announced through this Federal Register notice.
