

Northwest reports that the new Moses Lake Meter Station will have a maximum design capacity of approximately 27,911 Dth per day at 300 psig, which is sufficient to accommodate the combined existing firm delivery obligations at the two existing meter stations. Northwest relates that the removed facilities will either be returned to stock, scrapped or salvaged for reuse in the new Moses Lake Meter Station. Northwest asserts that no abandonment of service will occur. Northwest states it has sent a copy of this filing to the Washington Transportation and Utilities Commission which has regulatory authority over gas deliveries to customers served through the affected delivery meters.

Northwest estimates the total cost of the proposed new Moses Lake Meter Station to be approximately $556,809. Because this investment is necessary for Northwest to better accommodate existing delivery requirements to cascade, Northwest indicates that it will not require any cost reimbursement from Cascade.

Northwest states that any deliveries made to Cascade through the new Moses Lake Meter Station will be transportation gas delivered either for Cascade or other shippers for whom Northwest is authorized to transport gas. Northwest says that any volumes delivered to the Moses Lake delivery point will be within the authorized entitlement of such shippers. Northwest states that its tariff does not prohibit the addition or modification of delivery point facilities.

Any person or the Commission's staff may, within 45 days after issuance of the instant notice by the Commission, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street, NE, Washington, DC 20426, pursuant to Rule 214 of the Commission's Procedural Rules (18 CFR 385.214), a motion to intervene or notice of intervention and pursuant to § 157.205 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) a protest to the request. If no protest is filed within the time allowed therefore, the proposed activity shall be deemed to be authorized effective the day after the time allowed for filing a protest. If a protest is filed and not withdrawn within 30 days after the time allowed for filing a protest, the instant request shall be treated as an application for authorization pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act.
