Effects on U.S. Trade of the European Union's Association Agreements With Selected Central and Eastern European Partners

AGENCY: United States International Trade Commission.

ACTION: Institution of investigation, scheduling of public hearing, and notice of opportunity to submit comments.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 2, 1998.

SUMMARY: Following receipt on April 15, 1998, of a request under section 332(g) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1332(g)) from the United States Trade Representative (USTR), the U.S. International Trade Commission (Commission) instituted investigation No. 332-395, Effects on U.S. Trade of the European Union's Association Agreements with Selected Central and Eastern European Partners. The Commission plans to submit its report to the USTR by April 15, 1999.

Background

The European Union (EU) has signed a number of trade-liberalizing agreements with trading partners in Central and Eastern Europe and the Mediterranean. These agreements have established the starting point for negotiations on EU membership, which will commence this year.

To help it better understand the implications for the United States of such agreements, USTR requested on April 15, 1998 that the Commission conduct a fact-finding investigation under section 332(g) of the Tariff Act of 1930 to assess the effects on U.S. trade flows, sector-by-sector (including agriculture) of the European Union's association agreements with selected Central and Eastern European partners. As requested by the USTR, the Commission in its report on the investigation will:

(1) Describe the trade and investment-related provisions of the association agreement, including trading partner tariff preferences for EU goods and estimate the percentage of trading partner imports of goods and services from the EU that are covered collectively by the provisions;

(2) Analyze the changes in access to the trading partner's market such provisions create for the United States;

(3) Identify the product sectors where notable changes have occurred or are likely to occur to imports from the United States as a result of the association agreements; and,

(4) After examining trends in trade by the partner countries, analyze the likely effects of the agreements on U.S. industries in the identified sectors.

In addition, as requested by USTR, the Commission will review, and compile a bibliography of, existing academic and other literature relating to this topic; solicit to the extent possible the views of U.S. firms having experience in the relevant markets; and discuss aggregate effects of all five agreements to the extent possible. USTR requested that these trends be placed in the context of other economic and policy developments that may also have had an impact on the country's trade and investment flows since entry-into-force of the agreements.
