ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Department of Labor, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent burden conducts a pre-clearance consultation program to provide the general public and Federal agencies with an opportunity to comment on proposed and/or continuing collections of information in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA95) [44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)]. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

I. Background

These requirements provide for a record of specific test and inspections of a mine's personnel hoisting systems, including the wire rope, to ensure that the system remains safe to operate. Review of the record indicates whether deficiencies are developing in the equipment, in particular the wire rope, so that corrective action may be taken before an accident occurs. A record is not required if unsafe conditions are not present. However, the mine operator must certify that the required inspections have been made.

The precise format in which the record is kept is left to the discretion of the mine operator. All records are made by the person conducting the required examinations or tests. Unless otherwise noted below, these records are to be retained for one year at the mine site.

II. Current Actions

The information is used by industry management and maintenance personnel to project the expected safe service performance of equipment; to indicate when maintenance and specific test need to be performed; and to ensure that wire rope is replaced in time to maintain the necessary safety for miners. Federal inspectors use the records to ensure that unsafe conditions are identified early and corrected. The consequence of hoist equipment malfunctions or wire rope failures can
