

A single scoping meeting will be held in Wahoo, Nebraska in the Lower Platte North Natural Resources District (NRD) conference room from 7:00–9:00 pm on May 4, 1999. Scoping comments will be accepted by phone or mail at any time during the preparation of the Draft Feasibility Report/Draft EIS.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Questions about the proposed action and Draft EIS should be directed to Candace M. Thomas, Chief, Environmental and Economics Section, Water Resources Branch, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, 215 North 17th Street, Omaha, Nebraska 68102–4978, phone (402) 221–4575, email: Candace.M.Thomas@usace.army.mil

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Lower Platte North NRD is a cost-sharing sponsor in the preparation of the feasibility study/EIS, and would also be required to cost-share on any project that results from the study. The feasibility report and EIS will be integrated to reduce paperwork and redundancy, and to consolidate planning documentation into one consistent report.

A watershed planning approach has been taken in the Sand Creek watershed. A 1998 watershed plan prepared by the Lower Platte North NRD and the NRCS consists of 7 dams that will reduce rural and urban flood damages, reduce sedimentation and scour, enhance fish and wildlife habitat, enhance water quality, improve economic conditions, and provide recreational opportunities. That planning process was extended nearly three years for additional studies and consultation with the USFWS on the timing and flows of the Platte River and potential impacts on the endangered pallid sturgeon.

During the delay period, the Lower Platte North NRD also began pursuing a Lake Wanahoo project that would address some of the same flooding problems. The opportunity for building Lake Wanahoo stems from the redesign of U.S. Highway 77 from a two-lane highway to a four-lane expressway. This construction is scheduled to begin in 2002. The Lake Wanahoo dam embankment could also serve as the expressway crossing of Sand Creek.

[Docket No. IN99-2-000]

Communications of Market Information Between Affiliates; Declaratory Order

Issued April 1, 1999.

Before Commissioners: James J. Hoecker, Chairman; William L. Massey, Linda Breathitt, and Curt Hébert, Jr.

The Enforcement section, Office of the General Counsel (Enforcement), received a complaint on the Enforcement Hotline that a public utility informed its affiliate by phone to look the next day on the public utility's Internet website for an offer to sell energy. The following day, the public utility advertised discounted energy on its website for only a half-hour. The affiliate and another non-affiliated entity arranged to purchase the discounted energy from the public utility based on the posting. Three weeks later, another non-affiliate requested the same discount terms. The public utility refused to sell energy to that non-affiliate on the same terms at that time.

This scenario raises an issue of whether the public utility gave its affiliate an undue preference by telling the affiliate in advance to look on the public utility's website for information about an offer to sell energy. To provide guidance and eliminate any future uncertainty, the Commission clarifies that a public utility must not alert its affiliate to check for an electronic posting. Such a tip is market information that a utility cannot selectively disclose to an affiliate.

Background

The Hotline learned that a public utility was called by its power marketing affiliate which sought inexpensive energy for a specified term. Several days later, the public utility told its affiliate that the public utility would post on its web page an offer for energy sales with price information the following day.

The next day, the public utility posted on its website an offer to sell a certain quantity of megawatts of installed capacity and energy for a specified term at a particular price. The public utility posted the offer for 30 minutes.

On the day the offer was posted, the affiliate requested all of the megawatts posted. Later the same day, a non-affiliated entity requested a quantity of energy under the same terms given to the affiliate. The public utility agreed to that request as well.

Three weeks later, a second non-affiliated entity requested energy on the same terms that the public utility had given the affiliate and the first non-affiliated entity. The public utility responded that it could only offer capacity and energy on a month-to-month basis and at a different price than it had given the affiliate. When the second non-affiliated entity asked about the sales that the public utility had made to its affiliate and the first non-affiliated entity, the public utility replied that that offering was posted on its website on one day, and that the price had to go up after that day because the public utility faced new environmental requirements and other restrictions.

Discussion

This sale raises the issue of whether the public utility provided an undue preference to its affiliate by telling the affiliate to look for an offer prior to posting the offer on its website.¹ The

¹ There are several problems with this communication: the public utility gave advance notice of the posting to the affiliate—shortly after
