

States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky. The United States filed this action pursuant to Section 113(b) of the Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. 7413(b) for civil penalties and injunctive relief.

Gallatin Steel (Gallatin) was issued a synthetic minor source permit by the Kentucky Division of Air Quality (KDAQ) in 1993. The complaint alleged that Gallatin exceeded its minor source permit limit for nitrogen oxides (NO_x) and carbon monoxide (CO) from its electric arc furnaces (EAFs); violated NO_x emissions limits at its reheat furnace; constructed emissions units of regulated pollutants without a permit; started up the EAFs without operating its emission control equipment in violation of its permit; and circumvented the Clean Air Act's requirements to assure Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) of air quality in violation of Section 165 of the Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. 7475, and 401 KAR 51:017, Section 8(1).

The consent decree provides that Gallatin will pay a civil penalty of $450,000 and will perform a Supplemental Environmental Projects (SEP) designed to reduce NO_x and CO at the Gallatin facility. The cost to Gallatin for the SEP will be not less than $750,000. The consent decree does not provide for injunctive relief because Gallatin received and is in compliance with a PSD permit issued from KDAQ.

The Department of Justice will receive, for a period of 30 days from the date of this publication, comments relating to the proposed consent decree. Comments should be addressed to the Attorney General for the Environment and Natural Resources Division, Department of Justice, Washington, D.C. 20530, and should refer to: United States v. Gallatin Steel Company DOJ Ref. #90-5-2-1-2115.

The proposed consent decree may be examined at the Office of the United States Attorney, Eastern District of Kentucky, 110 West Vine, Lexington, Kentucky 40596 and at the Consent Decree Library, 1120 G Street, N.W., 3rd Floor, Washington, D.C. 20005, (202) 624-0892. Yellowstone Pipe Line Company and Conoco Pipe Line Company*, Civil Action No. 96-47-M-CCL, was lodged on March 30, 1999, with the United States District Court for the District of Montana. The proposed consent decree would settle a civil action that the United States brought on behalf of the United States Environmental Protection Agency under Sections 309(d) and 311(b) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (also known as the "Clean Water Act"), 33 U.S.C. 1319(d), 1321(b), against Yellowstone Pipe Line Company ("Yellowstone") and Conoco Pipe Line Company ("Conoco") (collectively, "defendants") seeking civil penalties and injunctive relief to redress defendants' alleged violations of Sections 301(a) and 311(b)(3) of the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. 1311(a), 1321(b)(3), in connection with a discharge of a reportable quantity of oil into or upon the navigable waters of the United States and adjoining shorelines. The discharge, from the Yellowstone Pipeline owned by Yellowstone and operated by Conoco, occurred during the winter of 1993-94 into Camas Creek, into the creek sediments, onto adjoining wetlands and into the soil surrounding

Under the terms of the proposed consent decree, the defendants will be required to (1) pay a civil penalty of $165,000, and (2) perform a supplemental environmental project at a cost of approximately $130,000, consisting of a selective fish passageway to be constructed in the Lower Jocko River. The fish passageway will be designed to enhance the population of a threatened species, the bull trout, while preserving one of the few remaining genetically pure populations of westslope cutthroat trout, in the same ecosystem where the Camas Creek oil spill occurred.
