The information collection was previously published in the Federal Register on January 8, 1999 at 64 FR 1219-1238, allowing for a 60-day public comment period on a proposed revision. Numerous comments were received prompting further program evaluation of the Form N-400 (Application for Naturalization). Accordingly, to prevent the disruption of this information collection, OMB approved the continuation without change of the current information collection, rather than the revision of the Form N-400.

It should be noted that the INS is in the process of continuing the evaluation and the revision of the Form N-400 program, to include system changes to allow for data entry of the information from the new form into the tracking system. Upon completion of the new Form N-400, another notice announcing the revision of the Form N-400 will be published in the Federal Register to solicit and obtain public comment. Until such action is taken, the public is instructed to continue to use the current Form N-400 (dated 1-15-99). Questions regarding the proposed revision of the Form N-400 should be directed to Gerard Casale of the Information Services Division on (202) 514-0788.

With publication of this notice, the INS is continuing the approval process of the current information collection by allowing an additional 30 days for public comments. Comments are encouraged and will be accepted until March 23, 2000. This process is conducted in accordance with 5 CFR 1320.10.

AlliedSignal, Mishawaka, Indiana; Notice of Revised Determination on Reopening

On February 8, 2000, the Department, at the request of the company, reopened its investigation for workers and former workers of the subject firm. The workers were engaged in the manufacture of guided missile targets.

The initial investigation resulted in a negative determination issued on January 31, 2000, because the investigation revealed that the company's primary customer was not purchasing imported missile targets which were like or directly competitive with those manufactured by the subject firm. The notice soon will be published in the Register.

New information provided by the company and the primary customer of the subject firm revealed that the customer is purchasing imported guided missile targets which are like those previously manufactured at the Mishawaka, Indiana facility.

Conclusion

After careful consideration of the new facts obtained on reopening, it is concluded that increased imports of articles like or directly competitive with guided missile targets produced by the subject firm contributed importantly to the decline in sales to the total or partial separation of workers of the subject firm. In accordance with the provisions of the Trade Act of 1974, I make the following revised determination.

All workers of AlliedSignal, located in Mishawaka, Indiana who become totally or partially separated from employment on or after November 17, 1998, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, DC this 8th day of February, 2000.

DMI Furniture, Inc., Plant #4, Ferdinand, Indiana; Notice of Revised Determination on Reopening

By letter of February 4, 2000, the United Steelworkers of America, District 7, Sub District 3, Indianapolis, Indiana, requested administrative reconsideration of the Department's negative determination applicable to workers of the subject firm. In the meantime, the Department obtained information relevant to the petition investigation. Consequently, the petition investigation for workers of DMI Furniture, Inc. Plant #4, Ferdinand, Indiana was reopened.

The initial investigation resulted in a negative determination issued on January 26, 1999, based on the finding that criterion (3) of Section 222 of the Trade Act was not met. The separation of workers at the Ferdinand, Indiana plant of the subject firm was attributable to the shift in production of commercial office furniture to other domestic facilities of DMI, Furniture, Inc.

New information obtained on reopening shows that a major declining customer of the subject firm has increased its reliance on imports of commercial office furniture.

Conclusion

After careful review of the additional facts obtained on reopening, I conclude that increased imports of articles like or directly competitive with commercial office furniture contributed importantly to the declines in sales or production and to the total or partial separation of workers of DMI Furniture, Inc., Ferdinand, Indiana. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following revised determination:

"All workers of DMI Furniture, Inc., Plant #4, Ferdinand, Indiana, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after November 9, 1998, through two years from the date of this issuance are eligible to apply for worker adjustment assistance under Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974."

Signed in Washington, D.C. this 8th day of February 2000.
