Description: The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) and the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) have agreed to conduct a survey of United States employers regarding the use of the respiratory protective devices. NIOSH needs more in-depth usage data to evaluate standards (29 CFR 1910.134, Respiratory Protection) and to pinpoint areas where education and training efforts are needed. NIOSH will use the information obtained by BLS from the survey to identify industrial sector and establishment size: (1) The distribution of respirator use, (2) the types of respirators used, (3) the hazards that respirators are used against, (4) the training of respirator users, (5) the extent medical examinations are used to qualify workers for respirator use for all respirator users, (6) the extent fit testing is used to qualify workers for respirator use, (7) the conductor of fit testing by users, (8) the distribution of fit test methods, (9) the training level of respirator program administrators, (10) the characteristics of respirator programs; and (11) the usefulness of an NIOSH certification label.

The findings of the survey will permit direction and evaluation of efforts to protect workers. It will give researchers information to develop educational interventions for specific populations to improve respirator use in the workplace.

This program helps to ensure that requested data can be provided in the desired format, reporting burden (time and financial resources) is minimized, collection instruments are clearly understood, and the impact of collection requirements on respondents can be properly assessed. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The ES-202 Program, a Federal/State cooperative effort, produces monthly employment and quarterly wage information. It is a by-product of quarterly reports submitted to State Employment Security Agencies (SESAs) by employers subject to State Unemployment Insurance (UI) laws. The collection of these data is authorized by 29 U.S.C. 1, 2. The ES-202 data, which are compiled for each calendar quarter, provide a comprehensive business name and address file with employment and wage information for employers subject to State UI laws. Similar data for Federal Government employers covered by the Unemployment Compensation for Federal Employees program also are included. These data are submitted to the BLS by all 50 States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The BLS summarizes these data to produce totals for all counties, Metropolitan Statistical Areas, the States, and the nation. The ES-202 Program provides a virtual census of nonagricultural employees and their wages, with about 55 percent of the workers in agriculture covered as well.

The ES-202 Program is a comprehensive and accurate source of data on the number of establishments, monthly employment, and quarterly wages, by industry, at the four-digit Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) level, and at the national, State, Metropolitan Statistical Area, and county levels. The North American Industry Classification System (NAICS), which will replace the SIC coding system, is scheduled to be implemented in the ES-202 Program with data for the first quarter of 2001. The ES-202 series has broad economic significance in measuring labor trends and major industry developments, and in time series analyses of establishments, employment, and wages by size of establishment.
