POLICY JUSTIFICATION

Ireland - Javelin Anti-tank Missile Systems

The Government of Ireland has requested a possible sale of 60 Javelin command launch units, 100 Javelin missile rounds, simulators, support equipment, spare and repair parts, publications and technical data, personnel training and equipment, U.S. Government and contractor engineering and logistics personnel services, a Quality Assurance Team, and other related elements of logistics support. The estimated cost is $26 million.

This proposed sale will contribute to the foreign policy and national security objectives of the United States by improving the military capabilities of Ireland while enhancing weapon system standardization and interoperability with U.S. forces.

Ireland desires this missile system to fulfill their commitments for participation in peacekeeping operation throughout the world, including the United Nations Stand-by Arrangement System. An improved anti-armor capability is required for these missions. The Javelin will replace the French MILAN anti-tank missile. Ireland will have no difficulty absorbing these systems into its armed forces.

The proposed sale of this equipment and support will not affect the basic military balance in the region.

The prime contractor will be Javelin Joint Venture (Raytheon and Lockheed Martin) of Orlando, Florida. There are no offset agreements proposed in connection with this potential sale.

Implementation of this proposed sale will require the assignment of an U.S. Government Quality Assurance Team or two U.S. Government and one contractor representative to Ireland for one week to assist in the delivery and deployment of the missiles. Two contractor representatives will be required in-country for two years to perform maintenance services.

There will be no adverse impact on U.S. defense readiness as a result of this proposed sale.

Transmittal No. 02-04Notice of Proposed Issuance of Letter of Offer
Pursuant to Section 36(b)(1)
of the Arms Export Control Act*Annex
Item No. vi*(vi) Sensitivity of Technology:

1. The Javelin anti-tank missile system provides a man-portable, medium anti-tank capability to infantry, scouts, and combat engineers. Javelin is comprised of two major components; a reusable command launch unit (CLU) and a missile sealed in a disposable launch tube assembly. The CLU incorporates an integrated day/night sight and provides target engagement capability in adverse weather and countermeasure environments. The CLU may also be used in the stand-alone mode for battlefield surveillance and target detection. Javelin's key technical feature is the use of fire-and-forget technology that allows the gunner to fire and immediately take cover. Additional special features are the top attack and/or direct fire modes (for targets under cover), integrated day/night sight, advanced tandem warhead, imaging infrared seeker, target lock-on before launch, and soft launch from enclosures or covered fighting positions. The Javelin replaces the Dragon weapon system. The Javelin weapon system hardware is unclassified. Specific data related to operation, performance, and system vulnerabilities are classified up to the Secret level.

2. This proposed sale is necessary in furtherance of the U.S. foreign policy and national security objectives outlined in the Policy Justification. Further, the sale strengthens collective security and contributes to the standardization and interoperability in the case of peacekeeping operations and support for the United Nations Stand-by Arrangement System. The benefits to be derived from this proposed sale, as outlined in the Policy Justification, outweigh the potential damage that could result if the sensitive technology were revealed to unauthorized persons.
