Background

As requested by the USTR, pursuant to section 131 of the Trade Act of 1974, in its report the Commission will provide advice as to the probable economic effect of duty-free treatment for imports of products of the five member countries of the Central American Economic Integration System (Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, and Nicaragua), (i) on industries in the United States producing like or directly competitive products, and (ii) on consumers. The analysis will consider each article in chapters 1 through 97 of the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States for which tariffs will remain after the United States fully implements its Uruguay Round tariff commitments. The advice will be based on the 2002 Harmonized Tariff System nomenclature and 2001 trade data. The advice with respect to the removal of U.S. duties on imports from the Central American countries will assume that any known U.S. nontariff barrier will not be applicable to such imports. The Commission will note in its report any instance in which the continued application of a U.S. nontariff barrier to such imports would result in different advice with respect to the effect of the removal of the duty. In addition, pursuant to section 2104(b)(2) of the Trade Act of 2002, the Commission will provide advice as to the probable economic effect of eliminating tariffs on imports of certain agricultural products of the Central American countries (a list of products was provided by the USTR) on (i) industries in the United States producing like or directly competitive products and (ii) the U.S. economy as a whole. The Commission expects to provide its report to the USTR by December 27, 2002.
