SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Summary of Information Collected

The Department of Defense, over the past three years, has been taking requisite measures to enhance physical and information security and applying prudent countermeasures for all potential vulnerabilities focusing on security actions to address the changes in today's threat environment. The Assistant Secretary of Defense for Command, Control, Communications and Intelligence (C3I) August 12, 2000 memorandum, Subject: Department of Defense (DoD) Public Key Infrastructure (PKI), directed use of a common, integrated, interoperable DoD PKI to enable security services at multiple levels of assurance. PKI is a key and certificate management infrastructure designed to support confidentiality, integrity, availability, authorization, and access control in computer networks. It is imperative to the security of the nation's defense that the systems of the Department of Defense be PKI-enabled as soon as possible. This data collection is essential to the effort to prohibit access to the Departments' systems to those not authorized. Public Law 106-65, Section 373 directed the Department to develop and implement a Smart Card program for the DoD. The Deputy Secretary of Defense November 10, 1999 memorandum, Subject: Smart Card Adoption and Implementation, directed the Department to implement smart card technology as a Department-wide Common Access Card (CAC) that shall be the standard ID card for active duty Uniformed Services personnel (to include the Selected Reserve), DoD civilian employees, and eligible contractor personnel. The CAC will be the principal card used to (1) enable physical access to buildings and controlled spaces and (2) gain access to the Department's computer networks and systems. Further guidance was provided in the USD (Personnel and Readiness) and DoD CIO April 18, 2002 joint memorandum to allow non-DoD federal employees requiring logical access to become eligible for the CAC. The Deputy Secretary directed the CAC be issued and maintained using the infrastructure provided by the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS) and the Realtime Automated Personnel Identification System (RAPIDS). Initial implementation of the CAC began December 2000 and mass issuance is scheduled to be complete by April 2004.

This information collection is required to obtain the necessary data to establish eligibility for the CAC for those individuals not pre-enrolled in the DEERS, and to maintain a centralized database of eligible individuals.
