[Project No. 2426-197]

California Department of Water Resources and the City of Los Angeles; Notice Denying Late Intervention

November 28, 2007.

On June 8, 2005, the Commission issued a public notice of California Department of Water Resources' (California DWR) and the City of Los Angeles' application to amend their license for the California Aqueduct Project No. 2426. On June 11, 2007, Friends of the River filed a late motion to intervene in the proceeding.

In determining whether to grant late intervention, the Commission may consider such factors as whether the movant had good cause for filing late, whether the movant's interest is adequately represented by other parties to the proceeding, and whether granting the intervention might result in disruption to the proceeding or prejudice to other parties.¹ Movants for late interventions must, among other things, demonstrate good cause why the time limit should be waived.²

Friends of the River argues that good cause exists for late intervention because it had no actual notice of the deadline for motions to intervene. It states that it only became aware of the deadline when the Commission issued the Environmental Assessment (EA) for the proposed license amendment on March 1, 2007. Friends of the River also argues that even if it had received actual notice of the deadline, it still would not have known of its actual need to become a party in the proceeding until the Commission issued its environmental determinations in the EA.

Movant's assertions are without merit. The Commission issued public notice of

² 18 CFR 385.214(b)(3) (2007).
