SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 13563 recognizes the importance of maintaining a consistent culture of retrospective review and analysis throughout the executive branch. Pursuant to the Executive Order, the Department of Defense (DoD) is developing a preliminary plan for the periodic review of its existing regulations and reporting obligations. DoD's plan is designed to create a defined method and schedule for identifying certain significant rules that are obsolete, unnecessary, unjustified, excessively burdensome, or counterproductive. Its review processes are intended to facilitate the identification of rules that warrant repeal or modification, or strengthening, complementing, or modernizing rules where necessary or appropriate. The preliminary plan, along with this request for information and previously received public comments, will be available on <http://www.regulations.gov> for public comment in the docket DOD-2011-OS-0036.

The Department of Defense is committed to the principles of retrospective analysis in order to improve the effectiveness of the implementation of its regulations, improve transparency in the regulatory process through public participation, and to provide transparent documentation of its analysis. Consistent with the Department's commitment to public participation in the rulemaking process, the Department is soliciting views from the public on how best to conduct its analysis of existing DoD rules and how best to identify those rules that might be modified, streamlined, expanded, or repealed. It is also seeking views from the public on specific rules or Department-imposed obligations that should be altered or eliminated. DoD regulations may be viewed by going to the eCFR at <http://ecfr.gpoaccess.gov> and searching titles 2, 5, 32, 33, 36, 40, and/or 48.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On January 18, 2011, President Obama issued Executive Order 13563 to improve regulation and regulatory review by requiring Federal agencies to design cost effective, evidence-based regulations that are compatible with economic growth, job creation, and competitiveness, and which rely on the best, most innovative, and least burdensome tools to achieve regulatory ends. To meet that objective, the President directed each Executive Branch agency to consider how best to promote periodic retrospective review of existing significant rules to determine if they are outmoded, ineffective, insufficient, or excessively burdensome. The President required each agency to submit its preliminary plan to the Office of Management and Budget's Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs by May 18, 2011.

HHS submitted its preliminary plan in compliance with the President's Executive Order and now seeks public comment. The plan is available for viewing, downloading, and comment at the following Web site—<http://www.hhs.gov/open/The> comment period will close on June 30, after which HHS will finalize its preliminary plan. II. Background

On January 18, 2011, the President issued Executive Order 13563, “Improving Regulation and Regulatory Review,” to ensure that Federal regulations seek more affordable, less intrusive means to achieve policy goals and that agencies give careful consideration to the benefits and costs of those regulations. 76 FR 3821. The Executive Order requires each Executive Branch agency to develop a preliminary plan to periodically review its existing regulations to determine whether any regulations should be modified, streamlined, expanded, or repealed so as to make the agency's regulatory program more effective or less burdensome in achieving its regulatory objectives.

DHS's approach to conducting retrospective review focuses on public openness and transparency and on the critical role of public input in conducting retrospective review. To that end, DHS published a notice and request for comments in the Federal Register on March 14, 2011, “Reducing Regulatory Burden; Retrospective Review Under Executive Order 13563.” 76 FR 13526. In that notice, DHS solicited public input on how DHS should structure its retrospective review and which DHS rules would benefit from retrospective review. In addition, DHS launched an IdeaScale Web page; this social media tool provided an additional means for DHS to solicit input from the public, and more
