

preserve the practical benefits of using consent decrees in antitrust enforcement, adding the unambiguous instruction that [n]othing in this section shall be construed to require the court to conduct an evidentiary hearing or to require the court to permit anyone to intervene.” 15 U.S.C. 16(e)(2). This language effectuates what Congress intended when it enacted the Tunney Act in 1974. As Senator Tunney explained: “[t]he court is nowhere compelled to go to trial or to engage in extended proceedings which might have the effect of vitiating the benefits of prompt and less costly settlement through the consent decree process.” 119 Cong. Rec. 24,598 (1973) (statement of Senator Tunney). Rather, the procedure for the public-interest determination is left to the discretion of the court, with the recognition that the court’s “scope of review remains sharply proscribed by precedent and the nature of Tunney Act proceedings.” SBC Commc’ns, 489 F. Supp. 2d at 11.³

IV. Summary of Public Comment and the United States’ Response

During the sixty-day comment period, the United States received only one comment, submitted by the American Medical Association (“AMA”), which is attached to this Response. In its June 4, 2012 comment, the AMA expressed its support for the United States’ analysis as well as the remedy articulated in the proposed Final Judgment, stating that the action against the defendants “address[es] the important issue of health insurer consolidation.” AMA Comment at 1. The United States has carefully reviewed the comment and has determined that the proposed Final Judgment remains in the public interest.

The AMA is the largest association of physicians and medical students in the United States. The AMA’s comment states that:

MA [Medicare Advantage] plans in competitive markets have incentives to submit lower premium bids to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), have more robust physician networks, and seek high patient satisfaction and quality in order to retain members. In contrast, less competition between MA plans may decrease the plans’ incentives to maintain seniors’ access to health care providers and minimize out-of-pocket costs.

Id. The comment concludes that “[t]he AMA supports the DOJ’s proposed final judgment regarding the acquisition of Arcadian by Humana and the DOJ’s continued work to ensure that competition among insurers is sufficient to protect consumers.” Id.

V. Conclusion

After reviewing the AMA’s public comment, the United States continues to believe that the proposed Final Judgment, as drafted, provides an effective and appropriate remedy for the antitrust violations alleged in the Complaint, and is therefore in the public interest. The United States will move this Court to enter the proposed Final Judgment after the AMA’s comment and this response are published in the Federal Register.

Dated this 5th day of September 2012.

Re: United States v. Humana Inc. and Arcadian Management Services, Inc.; Proposed Final Judgment and Competitive Impact Statement (1:12-cv-00464)

Dear Mr. Soven: On behalf of the physician and medical student members of the American Medical Association (AMA), I write in regard to the complaint and proposed final judgment filed by the Department of Justice (DOJ) regarding the acquisition of Arcadian Management Services, Inc. (“Arcadian”) by Humana Inc. (“Humana”). The AMA files these comments pursuant to the Antitrust Procedures and Penalties Act, 15 U.S.C. 16(b-e) (the “Tunney Act”), because the DOJ’s complaint and proposed final judgment address the important issue of health insurer consolidation. The consolidation of health insurance markets seriously impedes the proper functioning of health care markets overall, and oftentimes results in less care for patients, higher premiums, and interference with patient-physician relationships. The AMA supports the DOJ’s careful review of health insurer mergers and the DOJ’s proposed final judgment on the acquisition of Arcadian by Humana.

The DOJ’s complaint asserts that the transaction would end the substantial “head-to-head” competition between Humana and Arcadian Medicare Advantage (MA) plans and impair competition in 45 counties located in Arizona, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas. According to the DOJ’s estimate, the acquisition would give Humana market shares ranging from 40 percent to 100 percent with respect to MA plans. These high market shares create a significant risk that the acquisition, if allowed to proceed unaltered, would give Humana anti-competitive market power in those 45 counties. MA plans in competitive markets have incentives to submit lower premium bids to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), have more robust physician networks, and seek high patient satisfaction and quality in order to retain members. In contrast, less competition between MA plans may decrease the plans’ incentives to maintain seniors’ access to health care providers and minimize out-of-pocket costs.

The AMA supports the DOJ’s proposed final judgment regarding the acquisition of Arcadian by Humana and the DOJ’s continued work to ensure that competition among insurers is sufficient to protect consumers.

Sincerely,

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This notice is in accordance with the Privacy Act requirement that agencies publish their amended systems of records in the Federal Register when there is a revision, change, or addition. The Postal Service™ has reviewed its systems of records and has determined that these seven General and Customer Privacy Act Systems of Records should be revised to modify system location; categories of individuals covered by the system; categories of records in the system; authority of maintenance of the system; purpose; routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses; storage; retrievability; retention and disposal; system manager(s) and address; notification procedure; record access procedures; and record source categories.

I. Background

In 2011, the Postal Service began a significant management and organizational re-design. Many executive titles have been updated to reflect the new responsibilities of the leadership teams which resulted in changes to the location and custodian of the records.

The other system modifications reflect that some records may be provided to the Office of Government Information Services (OGIS) for the purpose of resolving disputes between FOIA requesters and federal agencies, including the Postal Service.

Updates are also being made to remove records no longer retained or which are out of date, the correction of retention times, and to clarify that agencies other than the Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) may receive customs records.

Lastly, a new system of records is being added to account for information collected and stored by the Judicial Officer.

II. Rationale for Changes to USPS Privacy Act Systems of Records

In an ongoing organizational redesign, many managerial titles and responsibilities in the Postal Service™ have been revised to reflect changes in the structure of the organization. As a result, there is a continuing need to update the information concerning Privacy Act Systems of Records to reflect changes in the location, custodian, identity, or title of responsible officials.

The Postal Service is modifying a system of records to account for the previous omission of an accounting of disclosure when records may be provided to OGIS for the purpose of resolving disputes between FOIA requesters and federal agencies, including the Postal Service.

Furthermore, it is necessary to remove outdated information and to account for data not retained, and to update retention times according to program needs. Two systems of records are being amended to clarify that agencies outside of OFAC, such as the Bureau of Industry and Security, are involved in export control and may receive customs records.

Lastly, a new system of records is being added to account for information collected and stored by the Judicial Officer.

III. Description of Changes to Systems of Records

The Postal Service is modifying the seven systems of records listed below. Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(11), interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, or arguments on this proposal. A report of the proposed modifications has been sent to Congress and to the Office of Management and Budget for their evaluation. The Postal Service™ does not expect this amended notice to have any adverse effect on individual privacy rights. The Postal Service proposes amending the systems as shown below:
