The area described contains an aggregate of 6,160 acres, more or less, in Clark County, Nevada.

During the development of the Solar Energy Programmatic Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) and Record of Decision (ROD), the BLM identified 469 acres of floodplain and wetland as non-development areas within the Dry Lake SEZ, leaving 5,717 acres within the SEZ as available for development. A map of the SEZ can be viewed and downloaded at: <http://solareis.anl.gov/maps/index.cfm>.

The request for interest follows a 2-year planning effort on the public lands as part of the Solar Energy Programmatic EIS and ROD. On October 12, 2012, the Secretary of the Interior signed the ROD, which amended 89 resource management plans. The Solar Energy Programmatic EIS and ROD provide a road map for utility-scale solar energy development on public lands. Public comments were received during the draft, supplemental, and final Programmatic EIS process. While the ROD does not authorize any solar energy development projects or eliminate the need for site-specific environmental review for future utility-scale projects, the Dry Lake SEZ was identified by the BLM under the Solar Energy Programmatic EIS and ROD as one of the areas as best suited for solar energy development because of fewer potential resource conflicts than other areas on the public land. The Solar Energy Programmatic EIS also will help streamline site-specific environmental analysis for future proposed projects in the Dry Lake SEZ. This notice also announces the release of the "Solar Regional Mitigation Strategy for the Dry Lake Solar Energy Zone" that describes off-site mitigation costs that will be required for the development of future solar energy projects in the Dry Lake SEZ. The Mitigation Strategy is available online at <http://blmsolar.anl.gov/sez/nv/dry-lake/mitigation>.

Two designated transmission corridors pass through the Dry Lake SEZ. These corridors have numerous natural gas, petroleum product, and electric transmission lines, including a 500-kV transmission line.

Parties interested in proposing a solar energy development project in the Dry Lake SEZ, or portion of the Dry Lake SEZ, should submit a letter of interest and a preliminary right-of-way (ROW) application (SF-299) to the address in the ADDRESSES section. The ROW application form is available online: <http://www.gsa.gov/portal/forms/download/117318>. The ROW application should include a legal description and map of the specific parcel of land that is proposed for solar energy development.

The BLM Southern Nevada District has one ROW application within the Dry Lake (SEZ) serialized as NVN-084232. Applications for solar energy development are processed as ROW authorizations under Title V of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976. The regulations at 43 CFR 2804.23 authorize the BLM to determine whether competition exists among ROW applications filed for the same area. The regulations also allow the BLM to resolve any such competition by using competitive bidding procedures.

The BLM will review submissions from interested parties in response to this notice and determine whether competition exists to develop solar energy projects in the Dry Lake SEZ. If the BLM determines sufficient competition exists, the BLM may use a competitive bidding process, consistent with the regulations, to select a preferred applicant in the Dry Lake SEZ.

Authority: 43 CFR 2804.23.

Amy L. Lueders,
State Director.

BILLING CODE P

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Notice of Lodging of Proposed Modification To Consent Decree With Dairyland Power Cooperative Under the Clean Air Act

On March 10, 2014, the Department of Justice lodged a proposed modification to a Consent Decree with the United States District Court for the Western District of Wisconsin in the lawsuit entitled United States of America v. Dairyland Power Cooperative, Civ. Action No. 12-cv-462 (W.D. Wis.). The Consent Decree was entered in August 2012, and resolved the United States' claims in Case. No. 12-cv-462, as well as similar claims brought by the Sierra Club in related litigation in Sierra Club v. Dairyland Power Coop., Civ. Action No. 10-cv-303-bbc.

The original Consent Decree resolved Clean Air Act New Source Review and Title V violations at two coal-fired power plants owned and operated by Dairyland Power Cooperative ("DPC"). See 77 FR 39,737 (July 5, 2012). Both plants are located in Wisconsin: The Alma/J.P. Madgett plant in Buffalo County, and the Genoa plant in Vernon County. The proposed modification would extend by eight months the time for Dairyland to comply with the Consent Decree's 30-day rolling average sulfur dioxide emission rate for one of the units at the Alma/J.P. Madgett plant. The extension relates to permitting delays encountered by Dairyland during the construction of Decree-mandated pollution controls. The proposed modification also would require Dairyland to offset additional emissions caused by the delay by reducing overall pollution from the Alma/J.P. Madgett plant beyond the levels required by the original Consent Decree.

The publication of this notice opens a period for public comment on the proposed modification to the Consent Decree. Comments should be addressed to the Assistant Attorney General, Environment and Natural Resources Division, and should refer to United States v. Dairyland Power Cooperative, Civ. Action No. 12-cv-462 (W.D. Wis.), D.J. Ref. 90-5-2-1-10163. All comments must be submitted no later than thirty (30) days after the
